

300 LIVES LOST

ONE OF QUARTET THAT TOOK GIRL AWAY IN
AUTO CARRIED GUN

The alleged kidnapping of Athena Akrotou, the 17 year old girl, who it is claimed was placed in an automobile in Moody street on the night of the 24th of October and was en route to Nashua when the machine broke down, has attracted considerable attention and this morning when the cases of the four men charged with assault and battery were called, the court room was filled to overflowing.

The defendants, James Antonious, John Roussos, John Contas and Athanasios Chamonios, who have entered pleas of not guilty, have told stories that conflict with the testimony offered by the complainant and witnesses for the government.

The regular session of the court was over at 11.15 o'clock and the alleged kidnapping case, in which the four defendants are charged with assault and battery was called.

John Roussos, one of the defendants, was recalled to the stand and testified that Athanasios told him that Contas was going to meet him in Moody street on the night of the 24th and that he and Athena were going to elope.

James Antonious, another defendant, when called to the stand said that he had known Athena in the "old" country and that Athanasios had told him about being in love with Athena and asked him to act as host man. He agreed to do this. In response to questions asked by counsel the witness said that he had been informed of the affair two weeks prior to Oct. 24. He said the witness, told me that he had made up his mind to marry Athena.

TWO STEAMERS SUNK IN COLLISION IN IRISH CHANNEL

LONDON, Nov. 4, 1.30 p. m.—The London and Northwestern railway steamship Connemara, bound from Greenore to Holy Head with passengers, has collided with another vessel and it is feared the death toll is about 300.

The Connemara collided with the steamship Retriever in the Irish channel last night. Both vessels were sunk. So far as is known there is only one survivor from both ships.

The railway company says it is unable to state whether any Americans were aboard these vessels. They seldom carry saloon passengers.

A Lloyds despatch from Belfast says the collision occurred off Carlingford

Lough, an inlet on the Irish coast between the counties of Down and Louth. The Retriever was inward bound. A few bodies have been washed ashore on the County Down coast. The despatch says it is feared 300 lives have been lost.

The Connemara, 1106 tons gross and 272 feet long was built in Dumbarton in 1896.

The Retriever was 190 feet long, of 674 tons gross and was built in Gool, England, in 1909. She was owned by the West Coast of America Telegraph Co., of London.

A steamer service is maintained by the London & Northwestern railway between Holy Head, Wales, and Greenmore, Ireland, a distance of about 80 miles across the Irish sea.

LINER SPERO SUNK

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Wilson liner Spero of 1132 tons gross has been sunk, according to a despatch from Hull to the Daily Mail.

The Spero was 260 feet long, was built in 1886 and was owned by the T. Wilson Sons & Co. Ltd., of Hull.

BRITISH STEAMER ON FIRE

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A Lloyds despatch from Falmouth reports the British steamer Ponus ashore and on fire in Falmouth Bay.

The steamer Ponus, 5077 tons gross was built in 1902 at Glasgow. Her recent movements have not been reported in the maritime registers.

SEVERAL BIG COLLEGE FOOTBALL GAMES

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 4.—Coach Haverstick told so little fear of the University of Virginia eleven which came to the Stadium today that he planned to send in an entire substitute back field for Harvard. Several second string men also were expected to start in the Harvard line.

Virginia's best chance for scoring was thought to lie in the expert punting of Thurman, the big right guard. His kicks in last year's game were the longest encountered by the Crimson during the season.

The probable lineup:

DARTMOUTH VS. SYRACUSE

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 4.—The Dartmouth college and Syracuse university football teams staged their annual game in this city today. Both had vivid memories of last year's scoreless tie, and although on both sides some of the best players were suffering from injuries, a close contest was anticipated.

YALE MEETS COLGATE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—A hard, close game with the odds in favor of the Blue was the general prediction for the annual football game between Yale and Colgate here this afternoon. Neither team has been defeated this season. Last year the New York state collegians won handily and many of the star players then were in today's lineup.

Yale has been developing slowly but surely all the season and the contest was generally expected to prove the further test for "Tad" Jones' coaching methods. Varsity who has been expected to play center for Yale and Hutchinson who has been snapper-back, was slated to start at fullback.

The probable lineup:

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The Army faces Notre Dame today in what the followers of West Point football look upon as the first real test of the season for their eleven, now rounding into form. CO. M

Secretary John H. Murphy of the Lowell board of trade is today definitely trying to locate the section of the Ninth regiment which contains Company M of this city and that is journeying homeward somewhere west of Buffalo. Two different reports, both of which apparently came from authentic sources, place the soldiers nearly a day's journey apart and Secretary Murphy went to Boston this afternoon to confer with railroad officials in an effort to obtain more reliable information so that there will be no delay in the reception.

One message received from the War Department is that the company is in Boston.

LOCAL TEAM SHOULD WIN FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE ELEVEN—THE LINEUP

The members of the Lowell high football team, Coach Conway and a few officials left at noon today for Manchester, N. H., where the local boys will play the high school team of that city. The Manchester players figured that today's game would be the hardest and best fought of the season. Lowell high was a favorite, as it has defeated teams by a much greater score than has Manchester.

In comparing the records of Lowell and Manchester for the season, the local team has scored 195 points to its opponents' 21 in six games while Manchester has scored 155 points to

SUFFERERS

Over 50 volunteers, among whom were several young men, enrolled for the work of Lithuanian relief today, and sold the deep pink tags on which was inscribed "Please Help the Sufferers of the War in Lithuania." Judging from the number of tags worn on the streets, the return was in keeping with that made to every such appeal for help in this city since the beginning of the war.

Most of those selling tags were members of the Lithuanian church and the collections were turned in to the pastor, Rev. John Olechnowicz, who has been an earnest worker for Lithuanian and Polish relief during the war. Collections were made in a round tin box, and the tag used is similar to those sold throughout the country. In most cases, Lithuanian relief was observed Nov. 1, in accordance with the proclamation of President Wilson, who acted on a resolution adopted by his house of representatives last July.

Following is the local committee in charge of the work: Rt. Rev. Bishop H. F. R. da Silva, D.D., Rt. Rev. Mgr. William O'Brien, Rev. John B. Labors, Hon. J. E. ## POLICE COURT CASES HEARD TODAY

Armond Robillard was arraigned before Judge Burleigh in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of $24 in money from Hermonagilde Paradis on Oct. 15. During the course of the testimony it was brought out that Robillard roomed at Paradis' house and eight days after the defendant left the place Paradis found that there was a $20 bill missing. He reported the matter to the police and then later, upon investigation, learned that the man had paid a grocery bill with a $20 bill. The defendant stated that the bill he paid out for groceries was one that he had received from the United States Cattle Co., where he is employed.

The court, after considering the evidence in the case decided to continue the case until next Tuesday in order that further investigation of the defendant's story might be made.

Assault Case
Isadore Hudson was charged with assault and battery on Sidney Bernstein and after the testimony had been offered the court found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $10. An appeal was entered. It was alleged that the complainant and defendant got into an argument over the payment of the bill and that Hudson struck Bernstein over the head with an iron bar.

Napoleon Charest charged with drunkenness, was continued until next Saturday.

Wladislaw Taig was charged with neglecting to provide for the support of his child, but upon promising to contribute in the future he was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction.

HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT MAY CHANGE UNIFORMS

A proposition has been made to have the high school regiment changed from blue to khaki uniforms. The decision will rest with the officers of the regiment. It is said, but at the present time it is not likely that they will decide in favor of the change. Most of the members think the dark uniforms are much more dressy and more becoming and a change at the present time would mean considerable expense. Many of the boys at the present time can purchase second hand uniforms from graduates who are leaving the school and thus the expense is lightened. To cast aside the present uniforms and purchase the khaki would entail an expense which many of the parents cannot afford.

asked Mr. Goldman.
"Athanasios?"
"Did he have a knife or a revolver or any weapon in his hand at the time?"
"No, sir."
"Where was the revolver?"
"In my right pocket."
"When Athanasios was put in the automobile by Athanasios, what did you do?"
"I got into the front of the machine with the chauffeur."
"What did you do with your revolver?"
"I put it under the seat in which I was sitting."
"Did you hear Athanasios scream?"
"Yes."
"How long after getting into the automobile did she scream?"
"After the automobile started she stopped screaming."
"Which way did the automobile go after you started?"
"Up Moody street."
"How far did you go before you stopped?"
"Some place beyond Lakeview."
"Where was Athanasios in the automobile?"
"She was sitting in the rear seat between Athanasios and Rousses."

Had Tire Trouble
Antonios then told of the tire which burst and of his coming to Lowell with Contas to get a new tire. He was not sure where the tire was purchased, but said that Contas paid $13.45 for it. He said that when he and Contas returned they saw another machine there. Athanasios and Rousses were missing, but in a few minutes they came back.

"Did you ask Athanasios and Rousses why they ran away?"
"Yes, they said it was on account of the automobile coming up and a man speaking to them."
Witness said he assisted Contas put the new tire on the automobile and then he took his revolver from under the seat and ran away, going in the direction of Nashua. He said it took him about two hours or two and a half hours to reach Nashua.
"You were arrested in Nashua?"
asked Mr. Goldman.
"Yes, sir."
"Where was Athanasios and Rousses arrested?"
"Yes, sir."

"Was a revolver found in your pocket?"
"Yes, sir."
"Were you fined for carrying that revolver?"
"Yes, I paid a fine of $50."
Cross-examined by Lawyer Murphy the witness was asked, "Was Athanasios perfectly willing to go to Nashua?"
"Yes, but she changed her mind when the machine broke down."
"You didn't offer to take her back home after you met with the trouble, did you?"
"No, sir."
"You didn't care whether or not she got back home?"
"No, for I knew Contas would take her back."
"When did you find out that she was not willing to get married and had changed her mind?"
"At that moment."
"At what moment?"
"When we started to repair the automobile."
"She said that she would not go any further?"
"Yes."
At this point the witness said that Athanasios used very insulting language.

"What insulting language did she use?"
"She said throw some light on."
"And leave this girl there if you wanted to take her back to Lowell?"
"We were afraid of her brother-in-law."
Further questioned by counsel, the witness admitted that he had four cartridges in the revolver and two or three more in his pocket. He could not explain any reason for carrying the revolver other than that he used to place it in his pocket now and then. He denied that he carried the gun to work with him. He stated that on the morning of the 24th he placed the revolver in his pocket. The witness said that he learned of the fact that Athanasios and Athanasios were going to elope about two weeks before the event happened. Under a sharp questioning he told of how he had placed the revolver under the seat after getting into the machine and then going into the car where the spot where the car was abandoned, how he took the revolver out and placed it in his pocket and subsequently of his arrest in Nashua.

Loved Athanasios
Athanasios Chamonios, who is alleged by counsel for the defense, was in love with Athanasios, and she then called to the stand and said he and she had worked in the Hamilton mills for a long time. Later he left and went to work in the Massachusetts mills and shortly after that, about two weeks, she went to work in the same mill. She was spinning and he was doffing. He was the doffing on her machine for about eight months but later she was changed, the witness claiming that the reason for that being that people found out that they were in love and she was afraid that her brother-in-law might hear of their affections.

Chamonios testified that he and Athanasios had agreed to get married and that the only thing to do was to elope, that he should get an automobile and make out a bluff at kidnapping her. He also told of giving Athanasios presents of candy and fruit while at work in the mill.
Shortly before one o'clock court adjourned and the case will be resumed on Monday morning.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

men being at work under the same conditions as before.
While no definite estimate has yet been arrived at, the recent fire in the stock room is supposed to have done damage to the extent of $2000.
The department is laying an 8-inch extension on Pentucket avenue for a length of 480 feet, and the dead ends on Anderson and Corbett streets have also been connected. This has entailed the laying of about 1000 feet of pipe, and brings up-to-date all the water piping in the vicinity of Gorham street.

Mayor O'Donnell Busy
Mayor O'Donnell was busy this forenoon perfecting the city's part in the plans for welcoming home the boys of Company M. Early this morning Major Kittredge telephoned to say that the various companies of the Sixth regiment would be housed at the depot when the train comes in and that permission had been given for a dinner in the drill shed of the armory on Westford street. Speaking of the plans for receiving the Lowell boys from the border, the mayor said that it was no easy matter to decide as to the form the welcome should take. Some members of the committee favored a large parade in which the military and semi-military bodies of the city might participate, and others thought that the boys would be tired and would rather go home immediately. Yet, he said, it would seem a grave omission to let such an occasion go by without some formal observance, and since the soldier lads would have to report to the armory before breaking company, the plan for a brief parade followed by a dinner seemed the most appropriate. The mayor said that he would have favored a rousing send-off if it were possible at the time, and he hopes that Lowell will make the most of the opportunity to give the boys a hearty welcome home.

As if to give point to his remarks, the telephone rang during the discussion and the mayor spent some time in assuring one Lowell mother that her boy would soon be back. For several weeks she has called him up daily, and as she has been reading the details of the various home-comings in the papers she has been giving him some third degree questioning. At the close of this morning's inquiry she asked the mayor if he would advise her to send the soldier boy to school on his return, and was answered in the affirmative.

The mayor also said that he hopes some way will be found to permit the soldiers to meet their relatives at the train before the parade, but he pointed out the difficulty of doing this without allowing in the great mass of people who, in their enthusiasm, would hamper the work of unloading, he inclined to the view that the boys will not arrive in Lowell until Monday.

Health Statistics
The figures at the board of health office at city hall this morning gave the population as 107,978. Total of PHUSE containing money lost on First st., near Simpson st. Return to 284 First st. Reward.

Former Senator Roger Sherman Hoar, democratic candidate for congress in this district, himself drew the cartoon which illustrates his political advertisement in "The Sun" today.

deaths for week, 32; deaths under 5, 10; infectious diseases reported, 1; acute lung diseases, 1; infantile paralysis, 1; tuberculosis, 2.
The death rate is given as 15.41 as compared with the 15.33 of last week and 11.45 of the week preceding.
Of the contagious diseases reported there are 6 cases of diphtheria; 5 of scarlet fever; 8 of measles and 7 of tuberculosis.

City Solicitor
City Solicitor Harold A. Varnum continues to receive letters of approval on his recent decision on the selling of liquor in licensed clubs. The Boston license commission and the city solicitor of Haverhill have written in an approving vein, and the latest letter received is from the clerk of court of New Bedford who says that the decision is in line with that given by a judge of the local court.

The settlement of the Cawley suit against the city recently has been the first decision in a suit for land damages to come within Mr. Varnum's term. Mr. Cawley would have been awarded $250 by the municipal council but he refused, claiming damages to the extent of $1500. The superior court decided wholly in favor of the city.

The contract has been let for the re-roofing of the city stables and several contracts are being prepared in connection with the Pawtucket school work and other projects. Several cases are also being prepared for trial at the next session of the superior court.

Hearings on Trees
There will be a regular meeting of the park board Monday night, and there will be hearings on three requests for the removal of trees. The request for the removal of one tree in front of the restaurant, J. Alfred Howard who is erecting a large apartment house on Appleton street across from the telephone exchange petitions for the removal of three trees and Fred Surro requests the removal of one tree opposite 24 Wilder street.

Supl. Kernan said this morning that if the department should vote to take down these trees action will have to be postponed until next year's appropriation has been made as there is no money available for the purpose.
At the present time the department is planting 39,000 tulip bulbs, all of which will be in before the end of next week. A gang is being kept busy

This picture represents my opponent for congress, John Jacob Rogers, trying to hide his hatred of labor behind free seeds, free pamphlets and the glad hand.

Don't let his pleasing personality blind you to his vote AGAINST the eight-hour law, or to the fact that he wears the collar of Hughes, who is making that law the chief issue in his campaign, who lunched under an "open shop" sign in Frisco, and refused to meet with labor in Nashvile.

John F. Fitzgerald For U. S. Senator

MY FIRST ACT WILL BE TO PRESENT A BILL PLACING AN EMBARGO AGAINST THE SHIPMENT OF FOOD PRODUCTS while the proper needs of our own people remain unsatisfied. What is your position on this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR THE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF COAL MINES, and if elected to the Senate will introduce a bill on the first day. Coal is as essential to life as water and air, and present conditions and prices are intolerable. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR THE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP OF THE OIL FIELDS in the country, to wrest this natural wealth of the people from the great monopoly that now controls it. Oil for heat, light and power purposes is essential in every family in the land, and should be cheapened, to the end that it could be used universally. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR THE INCORPORATION OF THE STOCK EXCHANGES of the country, and a law that will prevent counterfeiting of capital stock and make it as criminal as the counterfeiting of money. It is largely through the over-capitalization of the business of the country, 80 per cent. of which is now incorporated, that prices have risen so enormously. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR A SYSTEM OF NON-CONTRIBUTORY OLD-AGE PENSIONS; OF INSURANCE AGAINST ACCIDENT, SICKNESS AND NON-EMPLOYMENT. Such a system is now in vogue in Great Britain, France and Germany, and if these countries whose wealth is much less than the United States, can do justice to the worker, I believe the United States can and should do it. Poor-houses in a country that develops billionaires is an outrage and such a condition of affairs should be wiped out. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR SUBSIDIZING THE FARMING INDUSTRY to the end that the farmer may be encouraged and a guarantee given that will insure him a fair return for his work and investment. Farmers are the back-bone of the country. We need more farms and more farmers, and this cannot be done without encouragement from the Government. I favor a law that will stand behind the honest farmer, financially, thus insuring adequate food production for the people, and guaranteeing pure milk for our big cities to raise healthy babies. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR LEGISLATION THAT WILL BRING BACK THE AMERICAN FLAG ON THE SEAS. Massachusetts in the early days controlled half the shipping of the country; now the ports which witnessed the arrival and departure of merchant fleets are fast becoming summer resorts. What have you to say upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR THE DEEPENING AND WIDENING OF THE GREAT RIVERS in Massachusetts, the Connecticut, the Merrimack, the Taunton and the Mystic, to the end that the manufacturing centres that border upon these rivers may be freed from railroad monopoly and permitted to carry their product by water transportation, which is one-seventh the cost of the rail transportation. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR NATIONAL AID TO THE SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES of the country so that their systems may become more practical and co-ordinate with the lives of the different communities in which they are. America is filled today with boys who are misfits, and I believe that a proper study of our educational system, on a National basis, will result in a change of methods that will make a misfit an impossibility in American life. Where do you stand upon this question, Senator Lodge?

I FAVOR THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT LEADING THE WAY IN SOCIAL INSURANCE FOR ITS EMPLOYEES. As Mayor of Boston I felt that the city should be the leader in all movements of social reform, not alone for the benefit of those directly concerned, but that private employers might emulate the example of the city. This is my position in regard to the employees of the National Government. What is yours, Senator Lodge?

I BELIEVE IN INCREASED TAXES ON INHERITANCES AND BIG INCOMES, particularly the fortunes of those American women who shamelessly sell themselves to titled foreigners. What is your position, Senator Lodge?

An extension of American Red Cross work in New York has been made in the installation of a school for teaching first aid and nursing. Fifty pupils, including many women prominent in society, as well as women who work during the daytime and take the courses at night, have already matriculated.

The school, which is in charge of Miss E. Farley and Miss Evelyn Oliver, graduate nurses, offers a curriculum of home care of the sick, first aid to the injured, home dietetics and surgical supplies. The purpose of the schooling is to fit the students as

WEINERT PREFERS GLOVES TO WAR WEAPONS

Charlie Weinert, the Newark, N. J., heavyweight boxer, was born in Budapest, Hungary, Oct. 22, 1895, but, although the Kaiser of his native land is in a peck of trouble, Weinert has shown any inclination to help him out. Little old Uncle Sam's country looks pretty good to Charlie, and he prefers gloves to guns as weapons.

If he should settle down, now that he has arrived at manhood's estate, relinquish his title as "barbaric King" and go about the job in decent earnest, the task of winning the heavyweight title ought to be within the range of Weinert's possibilities. No other youngster among the hopes has displayed as much class as the New Jersey Kid. He has speed to burn, is clever and a good ring general, and game and aggressive. It is true that Jack Dillon has bested him twice, but Weinert is several years younger than the Hoosier demon, and by taking good care of himself ought to be able to clear that obstacle to his aspirations.

Right now, of course, Weinert probably wouldn't have a chance against Willard, although if Jess didn't train properly Charlie might outpoint him in a limited engagement. But Jess is getting along in years, and in condition is getting no faster. Weinert is broadening and taking on weight, and will soon be in the 200 pound class. He is a good looking lad, and while fond of the white light, he drinks little and smokes not at all. He has been boxing five or six years, but it was not until 1913 that he got into the limelight by holding Battling Levinsky to pretty nearly a draw. His progress has been hindered by his frequent changes of managers, and he has had more of 'em than there are generals in the German army.

If Weinert will prove that he is a full-fledged man and soldier by cutting out the cabaret stuff and settling down to real business, he will be a lad that will bear watching. And if he should win the big title he would be the first native of Central Europe to hold that honor.

ONLY WOMAN LEADER OF REVIVAL CAMPAIGNS

REV. MRS. T. D. BARR CARRIES A WORKING PARTY OF NINE MEMBERS

To Rev. Mrs. T. D. Barr, an Indian woman, falls the unique title of "the only woman evangelist" now conducting tabernacle campaigns and carrying a working party of nine members. As far as can be ascertained, the Rev. Mrs. Barr stands alone in this particular phase of religious work. Mrs. Barr holds a Sunday afternoon "men only" meeting in each city where she campaigns. She is a member of the Western yearly meeting of the Society of Friends. This is her second year of endeavor in the evangelistic field, and she has met with success. She is now conducting meetings in Indianapolis and will soon start on a campaign in St. Louis under the supervision of the women's federation of that city. Mrs. Barr has been a Friends minister, having held various charges in the yearly meeting for the past fifteen years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—During the greater part of today's brief session the supply of stocks offered by traders in settlement of outstanding accounts seemed in excess of demand with a consequent easing of quoted values. # HUGHES MEN IN HOME COMING TORCHLIGHT PARADE OF THE BOYS OF CO. M

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Enthusiastic republicans of Boston and vicinity, variously estimated by the police and the Hughes torchlight parade committee from 4000 to 10,000 carrying torches, red fire, flags and transparencies, marched last night through Boston's downtown streets.

Singing campaign songs and cheering for Hughes and other national and state candidates, the marchers were applauded from spectators who lined the route of march. The police estimated the crowds along the sidewalks at from 20,000 to 30,000.

The procession, spectacular because of the gayly colored uniforms of many of the paraders, the floats and the display of red fire and torches, was looked upon by the republicans as a huge success. It has been more than 20 years since the republicans have attempted a big campaign parade in Boston.

The parade formed in the Back Bay streets, leading off Commonwealth avenue, and was headed by George von Meyer, Jr., chief marshal. Starting at Beacon and Arlington streets, the paraders marched through Beacon street to Charles, to Boylston, to Tremont, to Scollay square, through Court street, to Washington street, to Eliot street, to Park square, where it was followed by the chief marshal and staff and state officials. Gov. McCall was unable to review it because of illness.

The biggest turnout was from Boston's Wool Trade Hughes club, which had about 1000 in line. Others were from the Harvard Hughes club, the Tufts college Hughes club and the Marksmen's Hughes club. From Tufts and Harvard there were about 500 each, and from the Marksmen's club about 600.

There were three floats in the dry goods commission division. These attracted much attention and were cheered by the spectators from time to time.

Other organizations represented by large numbers of marchers were the Young Republicans of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Republican club, the Framingham Republican club, the Republican club of Massachusetts, the Milton Town Republican club, the Hughes alliance, the Dorchester staff, the Harding Cadets, the Field's Corner Republican club, the Lexington-Bedford Hughes alliance, the South End alliance, Everett Branch Hughes alliance, Ward 7 Republican club, Cambridge Hughes alliance, Athenaeum Press Hughes Men, Ward 4 Republican club, the Dorchester Hughes alliance, the Allston-Brighton Republican club, the Hughes Alliance of Massachusetts, the Newton Hughes alliance, the Jamaica Plain Hughes alliance and several others.

While plans for the welcoming home of the boys of Company M are developing, the great uncertainty is when the soldier lads will arrive in this city. This, there is no way of forecasting with any degree of accuracy. The board of trade has agreed to send Secretary John H. Murphy to Worcester in the morning to meet the troop train, but after that our Lowell boys will come home via Clinton and Ayer. Secretary Murphy will accompany them on the last leg of the journey and will keep the local committee posted by wire as to the probable time of arrival in this city.

A suggestion has been made that the companies of the Sixth regiment be on the job at the depot and form lines to give the returning boys room to unload. The parade will then form immediately, as the men of Battery C will be ready to fall in. After covering the line of march the soldiers will be served a hot dinner at the armory, and the plans are for a dinner which will remind them that they are home again.

The real success of the home coming shall depend on the attitude of the people. It is not expected that the streets will be jammed with people, especially in the vicinity of the depot. There is no provision for speeches or showy displays, but a really truly welcome straight from the heart. While it would have been easy enough to plan for a big parade, it would be thrice as much to have the boys and it is far more appropriate to have a short parade with them as the only feature.

The people of Lowell will be warned in time so that there should be no misunderstanding. It is not expected that the parade will come on Sunday. Monday being the more probable day of their arrival. If they come in at night the committee hopes that the people will burn some red fire and cheer things up on the streets so that the boys will have no doubt of the cordiality of their welcome.

The invitation to uniformed organizations to take a place along the line of march has been accepted by the several companies of the Irish volunteers and the angel Guardian regiment. Others are expected to respond today.

Dinner At Armory
A small sum of money is needed to furnish the dinner which the committee will serve at the armory. About $100 is wanted and thus far the committee has received contributions only among its own members and the Lowell commissioners. Those who might like to have a share in this generous act are asked to send names and contributions to Secretary John H. Murphy of the board of trade. The following contributions have already been recorded: Col. Butler Ames, $10; Mayor James E. O'Donnell, $10; Chas. J. Morse, $10; Lowell Electric Light corporation, $20; Robert F. Marden, $10. Only the boys of Company M and Battery C will be at the dinner.

ADMIRAL FARRAGUT CAMP
A regular meeting of the members of Admiral Farragut camp, S.W.V., was held last evening. One new member was initiated and one application for membership was received. An invitation was received from John A. Brackett camp of Lawrence to attend a camp fire in that city on Nov. 8. An invitation was also received to attend the silver wedding of Bro. and Mrs. William Dickey at their home, 75 Varney street, Nov. 20.

ONE OF "BOBS" OLD SOLDIERS

HALE and HEARTY—due to "Fruit-a-tives".

"Most everybody in Chatham, knows Mr. George Walker. His romantic career in the British Army—during the Crimean War and later in the terrible Indian Mutiny under Lord Roberts—is known to many of the older residents of the city; while his erect, martial figure and vigorous health are in striking contrast to the average man of his years. What he says, carries conviction.

Chatham, April 3rd, 1913.

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and serving under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Fiercely hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using "FRUIT-A-TIVES". They relieved me of both the Constipation and Rheumatism. To-day, I walk many miles every day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation."

This letter of Mr. Walker tells how to help Rheumatism, but does not tell WHY "Fruit-a-tives" ends this trouble. Rheumatism is the result of poisoned blood, due to weakness or faulty action of the bowels, kidneys or skin. In Mr. Walker's case, Rheumatism was the result of continued Constipation. Waste matter remained too long in the system, was absorbed by the blood and inflamed the nerves and membranes in his legs. When he started to take "FRUIT-A-TIVES," these tablets immediately acted on the liver. More bile was given out to move the bowels. As the bowels were cleansed, the poisonous waste matter was removed, the blood became clear and the nerves were no longer irritated.

"Fruit-a-tives," the wonderful fruit medicine, is now prepared in the United States, as well as in Canada and England.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" are sold at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c.—by all druggists and medicine dealers, or they will be sent postpaid on receipt of regular retail price, by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, New York.

TO BOYCOTT EGGS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The executive committee of the Housewives' league decided yesterday to urge its membership throughout the country, said to number 700,000, to stop buying cold storage eggs until the price for them has been reduced from 60 and 75 cents a dozen to 40 and 50 cents. Women will be asked to buy eggs only for invalids until the price comes down. Officers of the league claim that the dealers paid 22 cents a dozen for the eggs for which they now demand 60 and 75 cents.

KING ATTACKS GIRL'S FATHER, BUT IS BEATEN AND ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF ASSAULT

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—After following Flora Garrity, 16 years old, to her home at 37 Lamont street, Roxbury, last night, Clarence King forced his way into the house through a rear door. While Edward G. Garrity, the girl's father, was running to find a policeman, he was attacked by King, who, in turn, was beaten by two young men who had escorted home a young woman friend of Flora Garrity.

This young woman, Margaret Nevins, recently had been attacked by a man. King was arrested and locked up at the Roxbury Crossing police station on a charge of assault.

Flora Garrity is employed in a manufacturing plant in Camden street. Last night she and other girls worked late. She was walking home alone about 10.30 p.m., when at Vernon and Hampshire streets she observed that a man was following her. When she quickened her pace in order to avoid him, the man also moved more quickly.

When the girl reached her home she ran along the path that led to the kitchen door in the rear. As she entered this, the man forced his way in behind her. No light was burning, and the girl called to her father, who, with her mother and two sisters, were on the second floor. The father hurried downstairs, and, confronting the intruder, demanded: "What are you doing here?"

King's reply was incoherent. Garrity, accompanied by his daughter, ran upstairs to get a match. Then, leaving Flora with her mother and sisters, he ran down the front stairs and out to the street for the purpose of summoning aid.

Just outside, Garrity found King, who forthwith attacked him. Garrity, who is near-sighted, lost his eyeglasses and was helpless. His cries brought to his aid John Norton and John Burns, two young men who had escorted Miss Nevins to her home in Linden avenue. They were giving the man a severe beating, when they were joined by Michael Sullivan and David Owens, two of their friends, who also proceeded to pummel King.

A call was sent in for the police. Before they appeared, however, the four young men placed King, Garrity and his daughter in a large limousine and drove to the Roxbury Crossing police station.

When he arrived at the police station King presented a battered appearance. His clothing had been almost torn from his body.

SAFETY FIRST LECTURE

Representatives of Bureau of Explosives Gives Talk on Safe Transportation of Dangerous Articles

"The Safe Transportation of Explosives and Other Dangerous Articles" was the subject of an address by G. B. Bonstelle of the United States bureau of explosives at the rooms of the republican city committee, 36 Central street, last night. Maurice E. Valliant, president and treasurer of the bureau, presided and there was a large attendance. Those who are interested in the transportation of explosives. Among those present were Chief Edward S. Saunders of the fire department and Mayor James E. O'Donnell, the latter making a few remarks.

Mr. Bonstelle was introduced by A. W. David of the U. S. Cartridge Co. and the government inspector proved an interesting speaker. He spoke of the bureau of explosives as an outcome of the loss of life and property frequently experienced by companies handling dangerous compounds of this nature. It was the president of the Pennsylvania railroad who finally suggested standardization in the matter of correct information as to the commodity being transported, honest packages, and urged attention to containers containing dangerous compounds by employees. The speaker then described the methods of handling explosives and his remarks were illustrated by illuminating views thrown upon the screen by the stereopticon.

GREAT BRITAIN STEEL SUPPLY

LONDON, Nov. 4.—By next March Great Britain will be independent of American steel, said Dr. Christopher Addison, parliamentary secretary of munitions, in an interview discussing the work of the ministry of munitions. The augmented munitions program for the coming year, said Dr. Addison would require 315,000 additional men workers and 100,000 more women.

RAILWAY MEN HOLD CONCERT AND BALL

The 11th annual concert and ball at the Street Railway Men's association of the Lowell division of the Bay State street railway, held last evening in Associate hall, was one of the most enjoyable and successful events of its kind ever conducted in this city. The attendance of street railway employees and their friends taxed the hall to its utmost capacity and the entertainment provided was of a standard that pleased all. There were present many street railway men from other cities, including:

FRED CROWLEY
General Manager

ing Boston, Lawrence, Woburn and Nashua, N. H.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The walls and balcony front were covered with purple and white bunting with American flags and flowers arranged in pretty clusters. Lace curtains were hung over the windows. A lattice work entwined with bunting of the prevailing colors encircled the stage front with the national colors used as a background. Large American flags covered the balcony posts and streamers of purple and white extended from each post to the chandelier in the centre of the hall. The whole effect was striking.

The evening's program opened at 8 o'clock with an overture by Mine's and Doyle's orchestra, which furnished music throughout the evening. This was followed by cabaret singing by the Honey Boy quartet, songs by Miss Katherine V. Hennessey and Commissioner James E. Donnelly. The whole concert program was delightful. The Honey Boys making a big hit, and Miss Hennessey and Commissioner Donnelly rendering solos very effectively.

About 9 o'clock general dancing was begun and continued until midnight. A short intermission was held at 10.30, when refreshments were served. Hot was given to all parts of the city and the suburban towns. The manner in which every detail was carried out reflects much credit on the officers and members of the local street railway men's union. Nothing that would add to the enjoyment of the guests was left undone.

The officers in charge were: General manager, Fred Crowley; assistant general manager, Fred Sad-

STOCKING THE PONDS

Lowell Fish and Game Association Receives Big Shipment of Black Bass

The black bass from the Mississippi river, which The Sun stated would soon be received by the Lowell Fish & Game association, arrived in Lowell yesterday. There were 18 cans containing members of the fishy tribe, the length of the fishes ranging from four to six inches. The fish were taken from the river in nets by the United States Fish commission at Bellevue, Iowa, and a shipment of 25 cans was sent to Gatun lake in the Panama zone.

The bass received in this city will be used for the purpose of stocking the Concord river, Nabassett, Hushing, Baptist and Mascopie ponds. Although the fishes were on the road for one week, every one was alive upon reaching this city. Capt. J. F. Foley had charge of the car which contained the members of the fishy tribe.

A delegation from the Lowell Fish and Game association met the car. This is the third consignment of fish for stocking purposes sent to this city. On October 13, 3000 yearling trout were placed in brooks in and around Lowell and on October 22, 12,000 yearling horepouls were placed in ponds in this vicinity.

BUILDING BOOM BRINGS STRANGERS TO LOWELL

An idea of the great amount of building work going on in Lowell at the present time is shown by the great demand for carpenters that is constantly pouring into the headquarters of the union at the Lowell building. Michael Lee, business agent for the local carpenters, is kept on the jump supplying the demands from contractors and individuals who have work in the carpentry line. Mr. Lee has been successful in bringing over 75 out-of-town carpenters to the city, but even this influx is inadequate. The out-of-town men, realizing the boom that the Spindle City is enjoying, are taking up residences in Lowell. Mr. Lee and other officials of the local organization encourage the men to bring their families here, and in many cases their wishes have been complied with. By moving here, the men not only assist the contractors, but also by patronizing our stores and markets help the local merchants.

This is taken to mean that in event of any neutral cargo or part thereof being landed in England, the German government immediately will cease to recognize the inviolability of neutral ships. The Berlin paper implies that the case of the Dutch freighter Bloomsdijk which was sunk by a German submarine off Nantucket on October 3 will be argued along these lines and it will be contended that, since the immediate destruction of the vessel was Kirkwall there was no guarantee that the whole cargo would reach Holland.

The British press also infers from a Berlin despatch summarized in the Kreislesche Zeitung that Germany proposes to sink a neutral ship carrying neutral cargoes dependent upon guarantees that no part of such cargoes shall be landed, whether through British compulsion or not, at any British port.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A special despatch from Amsterdam features a statement of the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung to the effect that Germany has decided to make the safety of neutral ships carrying neutral cargoes dependent upon guarantees that no part of such cargoes shall be landed, whether through British compulsion or not, at any British port.

2,000,000 BALES OF COTTON DESTROYED

ACTIVITIES OF BOLL WEEVIL CAUSE $200,000,000 DAMAGE IN COTTON BELT

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Approximately 2,000,000 bales of cotton, valued at $200,000,000 have been destroyed by the boll weevil and about 75 per cent of the cotton belt was infested by this insect this season, according to the report of J. A. Taylor, president of the National Ginners' association who has just returned from an extensive trip through the cotton belt.

"There has never been a year in the cotton industry when the weevil has done so much damage," said Mr. Taylor. "I estimate the damage at 34 per cent, greater than last year, all of it in new territory where the boll weevil has never been known. The weevil this year reached the Atlantic coast for the first time."

CITY OF BOSTON BOOSTS PRICE OF GRAVES IN MOUNT HOPE CEMETERY $5 MORE THAN FORMERLY

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The high cost of living has a rival. The cemetery department of the city, of Boston, has raised the cost of graves.

Following the announcement yesterday that funerals now cost more because manufacturers have raised the prices of various undertakers' supplies, it was learned that the cemetery department has increased the price of lots in Mt. Hope cemetery. In Section F, where single graves have been sold for $15, the price has been boosted to $20. The change took effect this month.

It was announced yesterday at city hall that this increase was made because of the increased cost of labor and other incidentals which made the former price less than the actual cost to the city.

MAN WAS DROWNED IN THREE FEET OF WATER

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Thomas H. Tracey, 44 years old, married, with a residence at 173 Garden Street, West Roxbury, a teamster employed by the Metropolitan Coal company, who had been strangely missing since Wednesday night, was found dead in a massy vault in three feet of water in a building in the rear of a barn on Springvale Avenue, West Roxbury, shortly after 1 yesterday afternoon.

Tracey was last seen alive on Wednesday evening at about 6.30 by his fellow workmen. When he did not appear at his home that night his family became alarmed and search was instituted, without success.

Yesterday George Armstrong of Pine Heights, Dedham, an employee of the coal company, happened into the building and the discovery of the body resulted.

Examination showed that $15 which Tracey had with him at the time of his disappearance was in his pocket, so the theory that he had been murdered was abandoned. The police are of the opin-

WATCHMAN, WHOSE DUTY IT WAS TO TURN ON CURRENT, DROPPED DEAD.

NEWBURYPORT, Nov. 4.—The Massachusetts Northeastern street railway was without power for an hour early today to the surprise of officials, whose investigations resulted in the discovery of the sudden death of Milleged Wall, a watchman at the power transforming station in Salisbury. THE CLOSING CAMPAIGN

With the presidential election but a few days off it is presumed that the voters by this time have made up their minds as to how they will cast their ballots. We assume that every voter who considers the best interests of the country will vote for the presidential electors of the democratic party.

We realize that certain members of the republican party are not inclined to support President Wilson, but in this they are perhaps honestly though positively mistaken. We believe with Frederick N. Wier, Frederick Panning Ayer and thousands of prominent republicans throughout the country that President Wilson in the face of many difficulties has given the country splendid service, safely disposing of some of the most difficult problems that confronted this nation since the Civil war. His record of achievement in constructive legislation will stand out as an epoch in our history equalled only by the emancipation of the slaves by President Lincoln.

Blinded by partisan prejudice certain republicans, overlooking the statesmanlike measures enacted to prevent money panics, to assist the farmers of the country, to establish a merchant marine, to abolish child labor and to put this nation in an adequate state of preparedness, have made bitter attacks upon President Wilson, but the intelligent voters of the nation are not likely to be misled by such unjust criticism.

The whole secret of this bitter opposition to President Wilson in certain quarters is, that the Old Guard of the republican party represented by Wall street and the trusts, is trying to come back. For this reason Wall street has been conducting a betting campaign ever since Hughes was nominated. The intention is to influence votes for Hughes. The game was done by Wall street against President Lincoln and as it did not result in defeating Lincoln so will it fail now to defeat Wilson.

Some of President Wilson's critics assail him for not plunging this country into war with Germany. Roosevelt says he should have called Germany to account for the invasion of Belgium and Mr. Hughes is responsible for Roosevelt and everything he says in this campaign. Hence one of the questions to be decided at next Tuesday's election is whether we want to get into the war now going on in Europe. We surmise that every good citizen of this nation on this question alone will be influenced to sustain President Wilson in the wise, conservative and statesmanlike manner in which he has handled all international questions.

Another charge made by the republican campaigners is, that after the war this country will be overrun with the products of European factories. They seem to forget that every country now engaged in the war will not be in any condition to enter into commercial competition of any kind and certainly not with the United States.

But, if, after a period of reconstruction in Europe, any danger of the kind should come it is fully provided for in the anti-dumping law enacted under the direction of President Wilson. The republicans are trying to frighten the people by stating that the present prosperity is due to the war, but only a small portion of our exports consist of war munitions.

The Federal Reserve act passed by congress under President Wilson has removed the danger of financial panics so that the business of the country can now go on without the periodical upheavals experienced under republican administrations. Moreover, the old bogey of the tariff has been taken completely out of politics and there will never again be a general revision of the tariff by any party. The tariff commission appointed by the democratic administration has provided for a settlement of the tariff question on a scientific basis and without reference to politics. This is what has stirred up the Old Guard in the republican party. The day of special privilege and protected monopoly is gone; the power of Wall street is broken and thus a prospect of complete extinction threatens the republican party unless it abandons its old policies and decides to work for the interests of the people. The indications now point to the triumphant election of President Wilson.

COURIER CITIZEN'S FRENZY
Despite the Courier-Citizen's erratic tendencies, its absurd political tergiversations and its allegiance to the now discredited "interests" in American politics, we were somewhat surprised to find it on Thursday apologizing for Mr. Hughes and regretting that Col. Roosevelt, "its favorite candidate," had not been nominated as the standard bearer of the republican party.

But the editor, arguing with the "man who is going to vote for Wilson because he cannot get Roosevelt," takes occasion to say that Hughes was taken up for the sole purpose of beating Wilson. He denies that Hughes represents the Old Guard of the republican party, but there is the plainest evidence that he does; and moreover, he represents the hypocrites for whom the editor of the Courier Citizen has repeatedly expressed his contempt.

In the course of the article, the editor as usual refers to Mr. Wilson in the most contemptuous terms such for example as a "weak man," "a discredited man," "the weakest, wishy-washiest sinner that ever happened."

So far as we can determine the editor's reasons for applying these opprobrious epithets to President Wilson, they are that in his mind the president has been vacillating in his policy, that he did not declare war on Germany after the Lusitania disaster and that he took the method he did to avert the calamity of the great transportation strike.

We are given to understand that the Courier Citizen could never support a vacillating candidate. But did not Mr. Hughes vacillate just a little in accepting the nomination for president after saying this:

"The man who on the highest judicial tribunal would consider another office, is fit neither for the one he holds nor for the one to which he aspires."

Thus Hughes out of his own mouth stands convicted as unworthy the office he seeks; and the varied, motley, that Hughes was nominated by the same crowd, he will in my opinion be controlled by them and the same interests that took him up into the mountain. This same crowd will control the delegations in 1920, and they will play the same old game. It is apparent to me that they have no more love for you now than they had four years ago, and the only way I see to get rid of them is for those of your friends who differ with you to clean up the whole gang, as they did in 1912."

Bravo Mr. Elliott, that is what is going to happen next Tuesday. But another charge which our neighbor makes is, that Wilson "surrendered" to Germany and to the railroad brotherhoods.

On the German question he scored a diplomatic triumph, the greatest in the nation's history and that too, at a time when it made very little difference to Germany whether we entered the war or not.

Indeed our entrance to the war at that particular time would rather have helped than injured Germany as giving her unlimited freedom for her submarine warfare on the high seas.

Moreover our contemporary may perhaps admit the indisputable fact that the republican administrations preceding Wilson left this nation in no condition to go to war with any great power. President Wilson has taken steps to remedy that weakness as he has remedied many of the other glaring results of republican disregard for the welfare of the country and for everything else except the privileged classes and the money kings of Wall street.

Now as to the alleged "surrender" of Wilson to the demands of the railroad brotherhoods. The Courier Citizen has been trying to make political capital of that as an abject surrender to coercion.

The editor thought that it would have been the proper course to let the calamity come upon the country and then if need be string up the brotherhood leaders to the nearest telegraph poles.

There might undoubtedly have been some stringing up if President Wilson had allowed the strike to come, bringing in its train starvation and a reign of terror to spread all over the land; but in such a calamity not the labor leaders would be in the greatest danger of being strung up but the railroad magnates, the Wall street money kings and such malevolent critics as the editor of the Courier Citizen.

The meagre army of the United States could not suppress a revolution which might easily result from enforced idleness followed by starvation throughout the land.

In his handling of the question, President Wilson dealt with conditions as he found them and adopted measures which will result in a plan for the peaceful settlement of all such labor disputes in the future, something which the republican party never attempted to do.

In regard to President Wilson's action in this case, it is distorted and misrepresented by republican editors and campaigners in the absence of a real issue. When Roosevelt was president in 1907, he surrendered to the United States Steel corporation, giving that corporation a free hand to violate the law.

Did the republican organs at that time charge him with surrendering? Oh, no.

Under Roosevelt's fiat the U. S. Steel corporation purchased the Tennessee Coal and Iron company for $50,000,000, although the property, according to Judge Gary, was worth four times that amount.

Roosevelt's excuse in selling law aside was to avert a panic and for this he gave a great monopoly full power of extortion.

Despite republican denials, there was no question as to the extent of the disaster President Wilson averted by a law for which two thirds of the republican congressmen then in Washington voted. Which was the "apineless surrender to blackmail?" The Wilson law that gave justice to labor or the Roosevelt violation of law that authorized plunder and loot?

But it is needless further to expose the absurd, inconsistent and unpatriotic attitude of the Courier Citizen editor towards President Wilson and his administration. Every campaign lie uttered elsewhere against the president is taken up by this facile writer, endorsed, amplified and emphasized; while he also draws upon his imagination for charges which must make the other political Munchausen of the nation look to Lowell for the highest examples of their art.

Verily our neighbor, on certain phases of this campaign, is so peculiarly obsessed that he will readily condone the worst political crime committed by a republican and yet condemn the highest, the most patriotic and statesmanlike service rendered the country by a democrat, his animus being particularly directed against President Wilson, the foremost democrat of this republic, the greatest president since Lincoln.

THE REFERENDA QUESTIONS
On the ballot at next Tuesday's election there will be four questions, one as to whether we should hold a constitutional convention on which democrats should vote yes. Another is whether one party will have the privilege of entering the caucus of another party. This question is very misleading and it is advisedly so. The question to be decided is shall the law against party enrollment be repealed? Do vote yes on this question is to vote for the repeal of the law and for party enrollment which would enable every employer to find out the political affiliations of his employees. Another question is whether New Year's day shall be adopted as a legal holiday. On this there will probably be considerable difference of opinion. Some want the holiday and some do not. For our part we feel that the wage earners do not want it, at least under present conditions. The fourth question is, whether cities shall have permission to conduct schools of horticulture and agriculture. Every citizen should vote yes on this question as in view of the high prices of farm products. It is important that more of our people should understand the science of farming and that more should depend upon the soil for obtaining a livelihood.

STEAMED CLAMS SERVED AT FIRE HOUSE
Captain Herbert A. Merrill and the members of Hose Co. No. 12, of West Sixth street, West Centralville, acted as hosts last night, the occasion being the semi-annual "neighborhood gathering" at the firehouse. The place decked out was steamy clams and the guests and the fixings that went with them were delicious.
About a hundred people called during the evening to enjoy the repast and one and all were loud in their praise of the spread. The members of the company were kept on the jump serving their friends, but there was an abundance of claims, from the daisies and the manner in which they were steamed and served would do credit to a professional clam fixer.
Although there were many prominent persons present, including three of the commissioners, not one speech was made—the affair being a strictly social gathering. Among the present during the evening were Commissioners Charles J. Morse, William W. Duncan and Newell F. Putnam, Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department, Purchasing Agent Edward H. Foye, Inspector of Buildings Francis A. Connor and James Hezra, private secretary to the mayor.
Hon. John T. Sparks, who is one of the neighbors, was also present, for the candidate for senator is one of the live ones in West Centralville and is always interested in what takes place in that section of the city.
While the majority of the people present were acquainted with each other, those who were not were soon introduced and the strangers were shown through the building.
An informal reception was held in the parlor of the firehouse on the second floor during the evening, Lieut. Charles E. Abare being in charge.
Fortunately, there was no alarm of fire sounded to cause a suspension of the festivities.
The success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of Captain Herbert A. Merrill, Lieut. Charles E. Abare, Joseph L. Crowe, Edward Landry and William F. Egan, members of the company, and Arthur Shioneau, one of the neighbors.

Taking up the Adamson eight-hour bill, Mr. Taft said: "I don't care what the merits of the case were, I don't care whether the men were or were not entitled to more pay. A bill passed under a threat of force, without debate or proper consideration, is a humiliating disgrace to the nation."
Horace E. Graham, republican candidate for governor, also addressed the meeting.

EVERLASTING QUESTION OF PERPETUAL CARE
Edison cemetery lot owners, who have the words "Perpetual Care" cut on their monuments, when no money for the upkeep has ever been paid, will soon be asked to pay the money needed for such care or to remove the words altogether. This was voted by the cemetery commissioners at their regular meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Harris was not present. Chairman Roberson made the suggestion that lots which have only one person buried therein and to which there are no titles, be resold on condition that perpetual care money be paid for the whole lot. The price of $100 for perpetual care, he said, would not be reduced. There are many fine lots of this variety, ownership of which cannot be established.

Mr. Rigby favored this proposal, saying that it would beautify the cemetery and a vote was about to be taken when the chairman suggested that nothing be done on the question until Mr. Harris is present. Mr. Rigby then called the attention of the body to the fact that "Perpetual Care" is on many monuments, although no money for the purpose has ever been paid. Action was then taken as above mentioned.

INVESTIGATION SHOWS HUGE PROFITS BY PAPER MAKERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—In a statement last night, announcing virtual completion of its investigation of news print paper prices, the federal trade commission declares that during the first half of this year, when prices already were soaring to unprecedented heights, the average cost of producing news print paper in domestic mills was less than $1.65 per hundred pounds, or below the average cost in the past three years.

The commission announces that before issuing its report, public hearings will be conducted and manufacturers, publishers and others interested given an opportunity to appear. No date is set for the hearings, but the report is said to be ready to send to the press in the near future.

Certain facts developed by the inquiry are made public now, because most of the publishers' contracts for paper are about to expire. Contract prices rose this year from less than $2 per hundred to $3 and $3.50, and on current market purchases the publishers have paid $7 or more for paper.

The statement follows: "The investigation of the advance in prices of news print paper which was undertaken by the federal trade commission by direction of the senate has been practically completed, and the report will be ready to send to the press in the near future. Considering the large mass of data involved, the work has been done in an unusually short time.

"This is about the time when negotiations for the renewal of a large number of contracts for news print paper publishers and news print paper manufacturers usually take place. The commission has therefore decided to make public immediately certain fundamental facts which have been established by the investigation. Some of the facts which have been ascertained through computations which have just been completed.

"No conclusions are drawn from these facts in this statement, such matters being reserved for the official report. Before the report is issued the publishers and other interested parties will be given opportunity to appear before the commission at a public hearing.

Advance Began Early in Year

"The price advance in news print paper which occasioned this investigation began early in 1916 and has continued down to the present. Most news print paper, probably about 80 per cent, is sold on contract for periods of a year or more. Before the price advance began, contract prices for news print paper were generally less than $2 per hundred pounds, f.o.b. mill. During the first half of 1916, contract prices for large quantities in some instances went as high as $3 per 100 pounds and since July 1, 1916, have run as high as $3.50. Most of the contracts now in operation will expire within three or four months.

"On current market purchases newspaper publishers have been paying manufacturers and jobbers very much higher prices. Before Jan. 1, 1916, current market prices ranged from $2 and $2.50 per hundred pounds, delivered, depending on quantity, freight and other circumstances; but since that time they have gone up as high as $6 or $7 per 100 pounds for a considerable volume of business and even higher in exceptional instances.

"The average price received by domestic manufacturers of news print paper did not advance in anything like the degree that current market prices advanced, because most of the paper was sold under contracts previously made. On the average, the actual net receipts of domestic manufacturers for news print paper were less than $2 per hundred pounds during the first half of 1916.

"The average cost of manufacture of news print paper in domestic mills was less than $1.65 per ton, or $1.65 per hundred pounds, during the first half of 1916, as shown both by the manufacturers' own cost sheets and by the costs as revised by the accountants of the commission. Furthermore, these average costs were slightly lower than the average costs in any year from 1913 to 1916.

"Though the average cost declined in the first half of 1916, the market price of some of the materials of manufacture advanced were unusually high.

No Advance on Materials

"It should be noted that the most important materials which advanced in price, sulphite and ground wood, were produced by most of the paper manufacturers without an increase in cost and not bought at market prices. While some other manufacturers were protected against the increase in prices by contracts, some other materials which were purchased at advanced prices were very small factors in the total cost. Certain economies were also practiced in the use of expensive materials.

"It is generally claimed in the trade that costs in the future will increase, particularly on account of the scarcity of labor in the Canadian woods and the consequent increase in labor cost of bringing logs to the mills. This is necessarily a matter of prediction, concerning which the commission expresses no opinion.

"The quantity of news print paper produced by domestic manufacturers in the first half of 1916 was somewhat greater than in any preceding half year since the middle of 1913. The increase in production was accomplished by running mills to full capacity. Recently most mills have been operated 24 hours per day for six days per week.

"The quantity of news print paper imported, which came chiefly from Canada, exceeded about one-third of the domestic production, and showed a great increase in the last half of 1916. The quantity exported also increased during this period, though the exports were small compared with imports. The prices, however, offered by foreign buyers were high.

Only Small Tonnage Exported

"The stocks of news print paper, which are very small in comparison with the production, not only declined during the first half of 1916, but also were lower than at any time during the year 1915.

"As there was a large increase in production and imports, accompanied by a decline in stocks, while there was only a small tonnage export, it is evident that there was a decided increase in consumption during the first half of 1916.

"An increase in the demand for news print paper is also indicated by the fact that the sworn statements respecting the circulation of newspapers made to the postoffice department generally show larger issues by the leading newspapers. And by the fact that the number of pages of the larger newspapers have been generally increased on account of large increases in advertising and news matter.

"Before the recent price advance, certain other grades of paper were showing higher profits per ton than news print paper and there was a tendency to change from this grade to other grades.

"This movement seems to have been checked for the present by the high prices of news print paper. Furthermore, it is stated that before the end of this year four new machines, two in this country and two in Canada, with an aggregate daily capacity of about 160 tons will begin operations on news print paper. Other projected or pending developments will apparently require a somewhat longer time to become available.

"It is not intended in this statement to make any prediction about the future course of news print paper prices, but merely to indicate some important facts to those interested in the buying and selling of paper in order that they may act more advisedly in making new contracts. Moreover, the facts shown here are confined to matters of a statistical character and do not cover other phases of the situation, including various trade activities of the news print paper manufacturers, jobbers and newspaper publishers. These questions will be a subject of further consideration by the commission and some of them will be covered by the public hearings, which are already slated, the commission intends to hold in the near future."

RAISE PRICE OF PAPERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The high cost of print paper and other material was given today as the basis for a decision of the five big Jewish dailies here to raise the price of their newspapers from one cent to two cents. The change will take effect Wednesday. The combined circulation of the five dailies is said to be in excess of 500,000.

RESULT STILL IN DOUBT IN CUBA

HAVANA, Nov. 3.—The result of the presidential election held throughout the republic on Wednesday is still in doubt. The supporters of President Mario G. Menocal, the conservative candidate for re-election, running against Dr. Alfredo Zayas, nominee of the liberals, made claims today that President Menocal's reelection would be brought about by the complete returns. Incomplete reports of the vote show the conservatives leading in the provinces of Pinar del Rio and Santa Clara. The liberals are leading in Oriente province, but the conservatives claim that the returns from the fifty seven unlesing districts will give them a majority in that province. The carrying of these three provinces by the conservatives would give President Menocal the victory.

TWINS, AGED 5, RESCUE BROTHERS AT FIRE

LEFT IN HOUSE ALONE, THEY CARRY OUT 'HIMIES' AS FLAMES
DESTROY HOME

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—While Donald McKee, the illustrator, and his wife were listening to President Wilson's speech in Madison Square Garden, at 9.30 o'clock last night, their five-year-old twins, Donald and David, awakened in their home in Winterburn Road, Cliffside Park, N. J., to find the house on fire.

Donald and David, who sleep on the second floor, ran downstairs and pulled out of bed their little brothers, James, three, and John, two. Then they rushed them out of doors.

Meanwhile, the blaze, which had started in the attic and thus had allowed the little chaps to escape, ate down through the house, and despite the efforts of firemen totally destroyed it. Neighbors cared for the four little boys, who were waiting impatiently when last heard from to tell their ungrateful father and mother of their great adventure.

Donald and David said there was a Jap butler in the house and they were sure he had escaped. The loss was estimated at $15,000. The house was leased by Mr. McKee.

DENY PARRAL CAPTURED BY VILLA

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Andres C. Garcia, inspector-general of consulates for the Mexican government, now in New York, today received a telegram from the Mexican consul at El Paso, denying the report that Villa had captured Parral. The telegram from El Paso said that Carranza troops were in full control of the place.

Mr. Garcia added that beginning Nov. 1 Carranza troops stationed at Juarez would receive as pay 50 cents silver a day in addition to the money now paid them in government currency.

STRIKE FOR NOT GETTING INTRODUCTION TO BOSS

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Several hundred munition workers in a London shop went on strike recently because a new foreman was not formally introduced to them. They were out for nearly two days and 25 of them were summoned before the military tribunal for leaving work.

One of the defendants, a man named Burgess, told the court that in 30 years' experience he had never heard of a foreman being appointed without his being introduced with the remark: Mr. Blank, this will be your foreman in future.

The manager of the works said it would be impossible to introduce a new foreman to more than 1000 men. Burgess said they did not expect the manager to introduce the foreman to everyone in the factory, and especially not to the young ladies. The court agreed that it would have been much better if the men had been properly informed of the new appointment, and to the accompaniment of loud cheers, dismissed the proceedings.

ACTOR ARRESTED IN BLACKMAIL PLOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Another alleged member of the gang of blackmailers whose operations against wealthy men and women in many cities attracted considerable attention in recent months was arrested here today. George Bush, an actor, was taken into custody on the complaint of J. J. Klein, a Baltimore banker, who accused him of extorting $18,000.

Bush and Edward Donohue, a prisoner in the Tombs here, induced Klein, according to the banker's story, to surrender the money upon their representation that they, as officials of the department of justice would refrain from "prosecuting" Klein after taking him to Baltimore last summer from Atlantic City, where Bush and Donohue met Klein in the company of a woman. The latter, according to the complaint, was taken with Klein to Baltimore, the two, the banker believed at the time, then being under arrest. The authorities are looking for the woman.

NO GERMAN BOATS LOST IN CHANNEL FIGHT

BERLIN, Nov. 3, by wireless to Sayville.—The admiralty has made the following announcement: "It is once more stated that all the German torpedo boats which took part in the enterprise in the English channel on the night of Oct. 26-27 returned. No boat was damaged by shell or mines.

"As to the English patrol ships sunk by German torpedo boats, the British minister Balfour (first lord of the admiralty), admitted that the number was six. The official report issued previously mentioned none. The German report gave their number as 11, which, according to a new and careful investigation, must be considered as very conservative.

"The German torpedo boats were by no means driven away by the British for there were present no British forces that could have done this. The few British destroyers which showed themselves were in part sunk by shells, being so taken by surprise that they could not fire one shot while the remainder saved themselves by flight."

PARALYSIS EXCLUSIVELY A HUMAN DISEASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—"The weight of present opinion inclines to the view that poliomyelitis, 'infantile paralysis' is exclusively a human disease and is spread by human contact, whatever other causes may be found to contribute to its spread," is the conclusion reached by a committee of the American Public Health Association, made public here today by the United States public health service.

"The specific cause of poliomyelitis," continues the report, "is a micro-organism, a so-called virus, which may be positively identified at present only by its production of poliomyelitis in monkeys experimentally. Inoculated monkeys experimentally have shown the virus to be present not only in the nerve tissues and certain other organs of persons who have died of poliomyelitis, but also in the nose, mouth and bowel discharges of patients suffering from the disease."

The committee recommends the following procedure in attempting to control the disease. Requirement that all recognized and suspected cases be promptly reported; isolation of at least six weeks; disinfection of body discharges, restriction of movements of intimate associates so far as practicable, as exclusion of children from contact with other children, or the general public during epidemic, observation of contacts for two weeks after the last exposure.

The report concludes: "There is no specific treatment of established cases in poliomyelitis. During the persistence of the acute symptoms of treatment are rest in bed, symptomatic relief and passive support for the prevention of deformities. Active measures during this stage are not only useless but are apt to cause serious and often permanent injury. Hospitalization of patients, where possible, should be encouraged. The chances of recovery from residual paralysis demand skilful after care."

Effective preventive measures approaching complete control, the report says, are "impracticable because isolation of recognized cases of the disease, and isolation upon their immediate association must fail to prevent the spread of the infection by unrecognized cases and carriers."

Nevertheless, it continues, we may hope for the development of "more thorough knowledge which will permit of more effective control of the disease than is now practicable."

QUEBEC MAYOR FATHER OF BIG FAMILY

Mayor and Mrs. Henri E. Lavigneau of Quebec are rejoicing over the birth of a son, their 25th child. The "future mayor" of Quebec was christened yesterday, his sponsors being Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Vallin of Quebec, uncle and aunt. Mayor Lavigneau is a former resident of this city, where he lived several years, being employed by Elie Desile, the piano dealer. Later he removed to Quebec, where he opened a large music store. He became alderman of Quebec and later was elected mayor. Last year he was re-elected for a second term, his election being given him by acclamation. Since making his home in Quebec, Mayor Lavigneau came to Lowell on several occasions to renew old acquaintances. Of the 25 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Lavigneau, only nine are living.

OVATION TO WILSON IN NEW YORK

SURPASSED ANYTHING REMEMBERED FOR TWENTY YEARS—CROWD SWEEPED POLICE ASIDE

Special to The Sun.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Surpassing even former Bryan 1898 demonstration and the Roosevelt reception of 1912, in Madison Square Garden, President Wilson last evening aroused New York to its highest pitch of enthusiasm. No old timer used to political demonstrations remembers such a succession of ovations, such sincere tributes of devotion as was showered here upon the president, from the time he reached the metropolis until he wound up his day and evening of appeals for votes.

Madison Square Garden, rich in history of political meetings, was a bedlam inside and out. The crowd swept the police aside, swarmed into the reserved seats and took the streets outside for a square mile. By 7.30 o'clock, the holders of reserved seats found they could not even approach the Garden. Above all the sincere enthusiasm stood out, plain to the trained observer, the fact that President Wilson has reached the heart of the masses. "It was apparent even to the experienced eye, that Wilson has impressed the 'ordinary man and woman' that he is their president and their friend."

FIVE SUBMARINES FOR CHILE

British Government to Turn Over American Built Warships as Compensation

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 3.—The British government, it is announced, will turn over to Chile five American-built submarines as compensation on account of the delay in the delivery of dreadnoughts which were contracted for in England by Chile.

The battleships Almirante Latorre and Almirante Cochrane, which were laid down prior to 1914 in British yards for Chile, were taken over by the British government because of the war. A number of submarines which had been constructed in the United States for Great Britain were refused delivery by the American government until after the end of the war. These submarines have been guarded by American naval officers so that the possibility of their removal from this country to the possession of a belligerent during the present war might be eliminated.

HENRY FORD SUE

Dodges Get Temporary Injunction Against Plan to Invest Profits in Business

DETROIT, Nov. 3.—John F. and Horace Dodge, automobile manufacturers, and stockholders in the Ford Motor company, obtained a temporary injunction here yesterday afternoon restraining Henry Ford from using the assets of the Ford Motor company to extend the business as planned, instead of distributing profits in dividends.

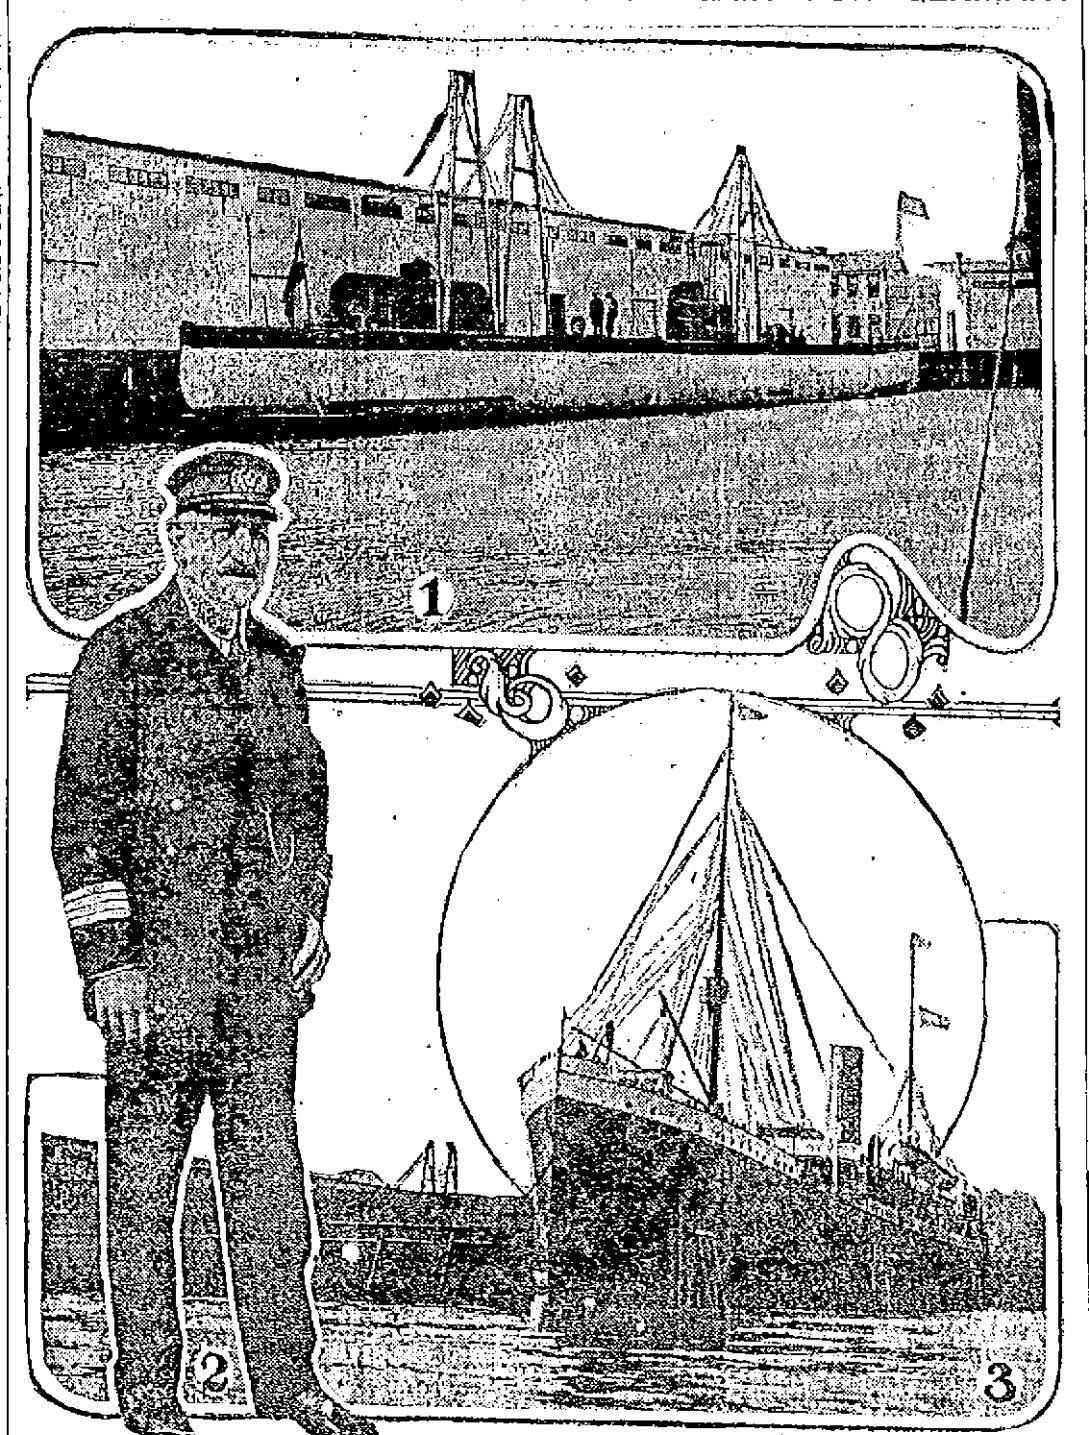

In their application to the court the Dodge brothers allege that increased labor costs and unstable business conditions coming to the end of the war make reckless expenditures of the company's assets unwise.

The company's annual statement issued recently showed profits of several million dollars which, it was announced, would be put back into the business.

UNLOADING CARGO

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 3.—The work of unloading the German undersea merchantman Deutschland which came quietly into port early Wednesday morning went forward today. Eighty negro stevedores brought here from Baltimore are taking out the cargo and storing it in the warehouses of the Eastern Forwarding Co. on the state pier at which the submarine is tied up.

SUBMARINE DEUTSCHLAND TO CARRY MAILS WHEN SHE SAILS AGAIN FOR GERMANY

No. 1 in the photographs is the German commercial submarine Deutschland lying at her dock in New London after her second successful westward voyage across the Atlantic. No. 2 is Captain J. Jacobsen of the steamship Wilhelm, called the "mother ship" of the Deutschland and used to house the members of the Deutschland's crew. No. 3 is the Wilhelm and at the left the fence erected to screen the Deutschland from public view. The Deutschland brought to America a cargo of gems, stocks and bonds, rare drugs and serums and dyestuffs, worth $10,000,000. It is said. On her return voyage she may carry mails to Germany.

Interest in Washington on the arrival of the Deutschland centered largely on negotiations for establishing a submarine mail service between the United States and Germany. The postoffice department let it be known that it was prepared to accept a proposal, made through the German embassy, that the Deutschland and any sister ships that may ply out of American ports carry not more than 300 pounds of first class mail at the regular transatlantic rates. Details of the arrangements will be worked out at conferences between officials of the embassy and the department, and it is hoped that an agreement may be reached in time for the Deutschland to take her first consignment of mail when she sails from New London.

Embassy officials do not disguise their interest in the plan. It would provide the first unconsented mail service from this side of the ocean to Germany since the beginning of the war and would have a material effect on the exchange of securities between the two countries.

FITZGERALD WOULD BAR MANSFIELD REPLIES TO EXPORT OF POTATOES IN CALL AT THREE RALLIES

TAUNTON, Nov. 4.—John F. Fitzgerald, democratic candidate for senator, at the democratic rally held here last night, received an ovation when he made a bitter attack on the rising price of foodstuffs and declared that it is a "crime to allow potatoes to be exported while they are retailing in our local markets at 45 cents a peck."

Mr. Fitzgerald declared that with the prices of potatoes soaring to unprecedented figures, the United Fruit company's steamer Linon, this week sailed with 12,000 sacks of potatoes to her hold. This would be sufficient, he declared, to break the back of the present crop, were they sold in the open market.

"This is but one of a number of extremely large potato shipments which vessels of this line have carried out of this port in the last several weeks," Mr. Fitzgerald said, "and it is known that they are being disposed of in the banana country for just about half what they are bringing at present in the local market."

"Senator Lodge is urging the election of Mr. Hughes and himself because he fears that unless the Payne-Aldrich bill is revived the 'American standard of living will be lowered.'"

"Will Mr. Hughes or Senator Lodge explain how it is that the worst industrial conditions in the United States have always been found in the most highly protected industries? The lowest wages are paid in those industries having the highest protection and the highest wages are paid in those industry having the least protection.

"The men responsible for the economic conditions in Lawrence, Paterson and Homestead are the ones who are financing the republican campaign. These 'interests' which have been the beneficiaries of the legislation of Lodge and his republican associates are now found opening their barrels for Mr. Hughes. Their wives are on the Hughes special de luxe train which toured the country, and a mere recital of their names would be a roster of all the big trusts."

"This bugaboo of hard times to come if the democratic party remains in power is all humbug. Hard times and panics are the specialty of the republican party. The great panic of 1873-1874 came after 12 years of uninterrupted republican rule. Black Friday will never be forgotten. What about the panic of 1907? Or the famous Roosevelt panic of 1907, after 10 years under a republican tariff, that swept away the savings of thousands, smashed small business into smithereens and left a trail of despair and suicide?"

"I favor the prevention of stock watering and the secret capitalization of excessive earnings due to trade monopolies. It is a crime that men can take an industrial enterprise or a store worth $100,000 in actual value and capitalize it for $500,000 and sell these watered stocks to the public and then have it pledged with banks as security and draw out your money and mine against it."

U-57 COMING TO PROTECT THE DEUTSCHLAND

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4.—The U-57, it is reported, left Bremen on Oct. 19—three days after the Deutschland sailed.

TO PROTECT DEUTSCHLAND

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4.—The German armored submarine U-57, sister ship of the U-45, which recently sunk five vessels off the New England coast, is expected to act as a convoy for the under-sea freighter Deutschland on her return trip to Germany, according to a statement last night by Captain Paul Koenig.

To Sail in Ten Days

The Deutschland's skipper added: "I would not be surprised if the armored submarine appeared off this coast while I am in port. You can't tell what the government will do."

In answer to questions, Captain Koenig said he probably would make his homeward dash within the next 10 days. He denied a report that he would go through the Cape Cod canal, saying nothing was to be gained by this route.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company announced that the Deutschland's cargo was discharged at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Great care was exercised to prevent outsiders from seeing the work. Only the crews of the submersible and the North German Lloyd liner Wilhelm were allowed in the hold. They passed the freight out to negro stevedores, who stored it in the warehouses.

Manifest a Mystery

Vice-President Hilken of the Forwarding company left yesterday for New York. Nothing has been made public concerning the Deutschland's manifest. James L. McGovern, collector of customs, is out of town. He sent a special delivery letter yesterday to Captain Koenig, but the latter declined to comment on its contents.

The citizens' committee which was arranged for a complimentary banquet to the Deutschland crew next Wednesday, announced that a gold watch suitably inscribed, will be presented to Captain Koenig.

Rumors were circulated here last night of the presence of British and French cruisers off Block Island, No Man's Land and Nantucket Shoals, but there was no confirmation from reliable sources.

Commander Yates Stirling of the United States submarine base on the Thames river placed no credence in the reports. He said the tender Bushnell and four United States submarines have been maneuvering off Block Island and adjacent waters for two days, and that if foreign warships had been sighted a report would have been made to him immediately.

Commander Stirling was interested in the report that the U-57 was to convey the Deutschland on her return voyage, saying that it was a natural thing for Germany to do.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Tomorrow's program at the D. F. Keith theatre will be a rouser, in every sense of the word, for there will be a variety of acts, including a comedy, a musical, and a play. The program is as follows: Dorothy Knowles, a bright singing comedienne; Will Robbins, singer and dancer; Helen Rice, in a play called "The Girl in the Red Dress"; and a variety of other acts. The program is a half dozen all new films, showing a great variety of photography subjects. The program will be one of the best of the season, and but two more opportunities to see the seven big acts remain.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

This afternoon and tonight are the last performances for the theatrical company of Lowell to see "The Girl in the Red Dress." This hilarious farce comedy which has been proving the magnet for wonderful crowds at the Opera House this week and which is the best attraction offered by the Emerson Players thus far this season.

Starting tomorrow and night at the Opera House, a gala program of vaudeville and picture features will be offered, the management having secured five splendid acts and as many more of the newest releases in photography. There are two performances, the matinee starting at 2:15 and the evening performance at 7:30. The prices are 10, 15 and 25 cents and seats are selling in advance.

Auderson and Evans in a hilarious skit, "The Wanderer," will prove one of the best laughing acts that Lowell has seen. The two young men are well known to the theatregoers of this city, having appeared here last season in another act, "On the Rocks." The new act is a screen from the start to the finish and entirely different from their previous offering. Anita, the violinist, is another big time act and she will win a great share of applause.

Putnam and Adams in a classy singing and talking act, and Edward and Mary in a lively mixture of song and chatter are other numbers on the bill while The Melody Boys will offer one of the nearest acts that this city has seen in a long time. It is a splendid program from the start to the finish and in this city, Walter Howard's great success, "The Story of the Rosary," a drama of love and war, which ran for a solid year in London, nine months in New York and which has been running to crowded houses in Chicago. Already there is a big demand for seats and patrons are advised to make reservations early and to arrange to see the play as early in the week as possible.

"The Story of the Rosary" is a play with a punch. It tells a great story

THE SPELLBINDER

The presidential and state campaigns are nearly at an end, and as usual each side claims victory, except the prohibitionists and the socialists. Lowell the campaign on the democratic side and warmed up perceptibly during the week, the big rally in "Assault on the White House" which was held last evening behind a general spirit of enthusiasm. Throughout the week the "Flying Wedge" speakers have been touring the city and neighborhood, and they have been very successful in their efforts to organize and not in line for the democratic candidates on the state and local tickets. They have presented the argument that all of the labor legislation and most of the so-called humanitarian legislation that has been enacted during the past 10 years has originated with Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, and has been placed on the statute books largely through his personal efforts and influence. And all of this great work has been done by him gratuitously. He has worked for principle, and has received no reward other than the satisfaction of seeing his measures become law and go into effect. They argue that if he has been such a loyal, faithful, energetic and successful friend of labor and the people who labor while a private citizen, what a greater power for the people he will be if elected governor of the Commonwealth. Where Mr. Mansfield has spoken personally in this campaign, he has made converts to his cause because his sincerity is most impressive and has won him hundreds of votes.

Sparks and Purcell

In the local contests the names of Sparks and Purcell are linked together as sure winners. They have conducted clean and dignified campaigns. The campaign on the democratic side and warmed up perceptibly during the week, the big rally in "Assault on the White House" which was held last evening behind a general spirit of enthusiasm. Throughout the week the "Flying Wedge" speakers have been touring the city and neighborhood, and they have been very successful in their efforts to organize and not in line for the democratic candidates on the state and local tickets. ### The 14th District

The county commissioners this year redistricted the representative districts so that the democrats of Lowell may have three representatives in the legislature instead of two, as they have now. The redistricting was done by the county commissioners, who are democrats, and it is generally conceded that this office should be a non-political office, on account of its nature, but Mr. Stearns has gone after it as one would seek a genuinely partisan berth. With Jeremiah Murphy as political manager, Mr. Stearns has conducted a rigidly partisan campaign.

Watch the Professor

We are indebted to the Complacent Citizen of the Courier-Citizen for the following startling information and coming election:

"I trust, I state that between now and election day, Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, the distinguished writer on history and government, who addressed the Lowell board of trade at its annual dinner, will come out in support of Col. Roosevelt."

Trade in Lowell

The Courier-Citizen goes way down to Texas, Texas, to dig up one John J. King, a former democrat and quote his views, while right here in Lowell we have a John C. King, a former and at present a democrat who knows more about politics than any of America's uncrowned kings, and who would tell them that Wilson is going to be re-elected.

The Inauguration Day

Some "wise guy" who looks into the future through the calendar has discovered that March 4, Inauguration day, falls on Sunday, and now the inauguration is coming in, as follows:

"Will the newly elected president take the oath of office on Sunday?"

"If the president does not take the oath on Sunday does the vice-president or the secretary of state act as president over the elapsing day?"

"Is there any article in the constitution that says that the president shall not be inaugurated on Sunday?"

OWL THEATRE

"The Flash of an Emerald," the photoplay which will again be seen at the Owl today has a rather peculiar name, but judging from the comments heard yesterday, it is proving one of the hits of the season. One of the scenes in particular which pleased many, and which was taken in connection with the play, is the showing in full of the famous coronation which took place every year at St. Anne de Beauport, at Quebec, where thousands have been cured, in a miraculous manner, of various afflictions. Other exciting attractions will be shown presented at the Owl this afternoon and evening.

STOPS ANY COLD IN A FEW HOURS

"Pape's Cold Compound" opens clogged nose and head and ends gripe.

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and sniffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store, it acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

Nothing, says nothing about it either way. In cases where there is no law prescribed, custom makes the law, and in this particular case we have a precedent for once long ago when March 1 fell on Sunday, the new president took the oath of office privately on Saturday evening, March 3 and was formally inaugurated with all the attending ceremonies on Monday, March 5, being technically in office over the intervening day. Presumably that precedent will be followed in the coming inauguration.

Working in the Country

Outside of the French-American population it would appear that Messrs. Stearns and Colburn have been doing their campaign in Lowell, for they have given all of their time during the week to campaigning and addressing voters in the towns of their respective districts. With Mr. Jeremiah P. Murphy, of this city, as presiding officer, Mr. Stearns has held some non-party rallies in the towns and has said that which probably would not be seriously received in the city. Among other things which Mr. Stearns is quoted as having said: "If I am elected, your wives and daughters and sisters will not be obliged to go forth into the highways and byways soliciting votes."

If he's talking anti-votes for women his statement may mean something, but how it is connected with the contest for register of deeds, passeth understanding.

Passed Up Joe Lambert

Rep. Colburn this week sent out letters written in French to every French voter in Lowell and to others with names that sound like French names but whose owners can't even say "Comme ça va," which he says is his love for and interest in the French-Americans of his district. Although Joe Lambert runs a French printing office with the French fonts of type, and with the union label, the circular was printed in another printery.

Hon. Francis G. Slaterry

One of the best speakers heard in Lowell during the campaign was Hon. Francis G. Slaterry, the well known Boston attorney, and a close personal friend of Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield. Mr. Slaterry spoke at the Wage-Earners' rally in Lincoln hall, on Thursday evening, and made a big hit. He has known Mansfield intimately for years and to use the vernacular "knows him like a book." From his knowledge of the man himself comes his intense interest in the latter's cause.

Candidates for Commissioner

A correspondent inquires: "What has become of the candidates for municipal commissioner?"

The only correct answer is: "Where have you been?"

THE SPELLBINDER

SWEETSER AROUSED OVER LACK OF HEADQUARTERS

GENERAL APPEALS TO GOVERNOR OVER THE HEAD OF ADJUTANT GENERAL

MODERLY, Mo., Nov. 4.—As the train bearing the Ninth regiment boys along on its way home, General Sweetser is becoming more and more anxious to know where he is to find suitable headquarters when his train reaches Boston. The commander of the Second Massachusetts brigade has been keeping the wires hot between this train and the state house in Boston, and threatens trouble, according to regimental officers.

The general has appealed to Governor McCall, over the head of the adjutant-general, whose order resulted in the second brigade being left without quarters.

Governor McCall has replied at least once to the general since the train left El Paso and the general has sent more messages. Just what the result of these telegrams has been General Sweetser declines to state, although he indicated today that he may have something to say on that score later.

The feeling among officers of this train is that the second brigade's fighting leader will declare war on somebody before long. It is known that General Sweetser feels that he has been pretty roughly treated. The difference between the adjutant general and General Sweetser grew out of an order issued by the former relieving General Sweetser from command of the commonwealth army and turning the army over to the charge of Colonel John Sherburne of the Bay State artillery regiment.

The two rooms in this armory formerly occupied as a headquarters by General Sweetser were given over to the use of the supply company of the artillery regiment. Notice of the adjutant-general's order did not reach General Sweetser in El Paso until the latter's effects were packed for shipment to the commonwealth armory and were about to be loaded on this train. Since then General Sweetser has been trying to find a military home suitable for the day's state's senior field officers.

Yesterday the Ninth's train rolled into Missouri, and is now running slowly across this state. Yesterday morning at about 5 o'clock the Ninth reached Kansas City, and after a delay of about five hours there it started across the "show me" state.

It has been travelling at a snail's pace and most everybody aboard is grumbling over the delays.

MAIL ON CARPATHIA

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—No mail from England or France had been delivered here this week owing to the action of the British postal authorities in placing the mail on the Cunard line steamer Carpathia, one of the slowest steamships in the Atlantic passenger service. The Carpathia left Liverpool Oct. 25 and is due here today. The last mail to arrive came on the White Star liner Celtic a week ago today.

"ATTEMPT TO BUY LABOR"

Charge Made by William G. Lee, Head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 4.—William G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen, yesterday in a signed statement declared he had received information that the "moneyed interests will undertake to have railroad employees and other workmen coerced, bribed or bought away from their intention or desire to vote for the re-election of President Wilson."

He declared his belief that the reported project will fail to obtain results.

U.S. COURT ORDERS THE SALE OF STEAMERS

PORTLAND, Me. Nov. 4.—The Eastern Steamship Corporation property has been ordered sold at auction by Judge William L. Putnam of the United States district court. An order providing for the sale by the special masters in the case was handed down this noon. The order follows the decree of foreclosure, and two title mortgages, given by Judge Putnam on Sept. 28.

Judge Putnam at that time ordered that, if the Eastern Steamship Corporation did not pay to the Old Colony Trust company of Boston, trustee of the refunding mortgages, $25,000 within 10 days of the date of the decree, that the special masters, Hon. John F. A. Merrill and Hon. Carroll W. Morrill, should sell the property at auction.

In a petition presented yesterday by the Old Colony Trust company, and the Rev. W. W. Coolidge, clerk of the court, it was stated that the big sum due has not been paid and the complaints asked that the property of the corporation be sold as provided in the decree of Sept. 28. The order is issued by Judge Putnam virtually grants the petition of the complainants and they then take action as a "consolidated cause."

The trust mortgages, upon which principal and interest are due, were issued Jan. 10, 1912, and March 25, 1912.

In the order issued by Judge Putnam, the loss of the steamer Bay State is referred to, as well as the sale of the steamer at auction on Oct. 5, with the consent of the court.

Referring to this sale the court says in its order: "No interest in, or right of claim to any salvage or insurance payable on account of the loss of the steamer, Bay State, shall be deemed to be included in the property to be sold by the special masters."

In the foreclosure decree of Sept. 26, it was specified that when the auction should take place, the bulk of the property should be sold from the steps of the Suffolk courthouse in Boston, and the remainder from the steps of the courthouse at Bangor. The special masters have not yet set the date for the sale.

The decree of Sept. 26 also says that the total amount received for the sale of the property should not be less than approximately $100,000.

Ancillary orders will be filed in the United States district court for Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—An official estimate that 60,000 negroes have been transported recently from the south into Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other states was made by the department of justice last night in a statement declaring that a number of the negroes have fraudulently registered and that other election frauds disclosed include padding of registration lists reaching into thousands of false names in one city alone.

The statement issued with the sanction of Attorney General Gregory, gives warning that conspiracies to intimidate voters will be promptly prosecuted. It is the department's first official announcement that actual cases of fraud have been developed by its investigators.

Judge Riley's part in this campaign

Suppression runs riot among political celebrities as in every other profession, and democratic leaders throughout Massachusetts, therefore, attach unusual significance this year to the fact that Judge Thomas P. Riley of Malden, candidate for lieutenant governor, is again because of the rally coming and speakers' bureau of the democratic state committee.

Judge Riley's managerial record has been brilliant. As director of the same department of the democratic state campaigns of 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914, he was chairman of the state committee in 1912 and 1913—he achieved the reputation of being a winner, for in those years his capacity for direction resulted in the election of Governor Foss twice, Governor Walsh twice and the carrying of the state for Wilson four years ago. Last year, because of the rally coming and speakers' bureau of the democratic state committee, Gov. McCall defeated Governor Walsh for re-election to a third term in 1915.

This year, Judge Riley has again been in active charge of the rally features of the democratic campaign, and believers in signs look upon his leadership as an omen of victory.

Judge Riley was unimpaired of self-sacrifice when he agreed to handle the active campaign and the other party leaders and counselors had in mind his successes in the campaigns that started Foss by a plurality of 3,102 in 1911; the re-election of Foss in 1912 and the carrying of the state for Woodrow Wilson; the election of Walsh in 1913 and his re-election in 1914.

The result this year has been a campaign such as has never been witnessed by democrats of Massachusetts. The campaign was scientifically arranged and national and state speakers were secured to address the voters of practically every nationality. Three times the length and breadth of the state has been covered and, in most instances, the largest centers have been visited and rallies conducted no less than six times.

With all his activity, despite the fact that he has not missed a single night at campaigning and speech making, Judge Riley has been at the democratic state committee headquarters in Boston at 10 o'clock each forenoon and has remained until his speaking engagements for the evening called him to all parts of the state.

As a worker in the cause he has been faithful and tireless.

CHINAMEN INTERESTED

Total of 50 Registered as Voters in Boston, Most of Whom Believed to Be for President Wilson

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The Chinese of Boston cast only 10 votes, but they are much interested in the outcome of the election. May Wing, a leading citizen of the Chinese colony, said every one of them intends to vote.

May Wing said yesterday: "I think Wilson is very strong with the Chinamen. They talk a lot about him. I think it is safe to say that nearly all of the Boston Chinamen will vote for Wilson, but some Chinamen will vote for Hughes."

LOWELL MAN HAD HUNTERS HAD TO VERY NARROW BEAT HASTY ESCAPE RETREAT

Edouard Tetreault of Alken street, a traveling salesman, had a very narrow escape from death or serious injury when the automobile in which he was riding figured in a collision on the state highway between Hampstead, N. H., and Salem Depot, N. H., yesterday. Although the automobile was badly wrecked, the occupants were uninjured.

Mr. Tetreault hired a car at Salem Depot, N. H., and was seated next to the chauffeur while going over the state road between Hampstead and Salem Depot. When a spot was reached near a cross road, another car came speeding along and the two autos collided with such force that the two front wheels and the mud guard on the machine occupied by Tetreault were badly damaged. The machine did not turn turtle, but stuck to the road, the two occupants being thrown out. The other car was also badly damaged.

PRESIDENT WILSON CONFIDENT

Confidence from his home state. Every democratic county organization in New Jersey will send delegations to Shadow Lawn.

Both candidates will spend the two days that intervene before election quietly, the president at Shadow Lawn and Mr. Hughes at the hotel where he has made his New York headquarters since he left Washington. They will receive the returns at these places.

J. Frank Hanly, the prohibition presidential candidate, will reach his home in Indianapolis tonight after an arduous day of campaigning through Indiana. Since Sept. 8, Mr. Hanly has traveled nearly 20,000 miles through 31 states. The socialist candidate, Alvin L. Benson, who has made campaign speeches in almost every part of the country, is today in Kansas City, Mo.

Hughes travelled 25,000 miles. Mr. Hughes, the republican candidate, holds the record for campaign journeys. When he reached New York yesterday he had made four distinct trips which, since August, have carried him through 33 states and a distance of about 25,000 miles. None of the president's trips were as long as those of his rival and most of them were made to some extent.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lowney of 80 Aiken street have returned from a very pleasant five-weeks' trip through the Dominion of Canada. Mr. Lowney, who is an expert with the gun, spent three weeks in the big game country and succeeded in landing a deer and a fox, the hides of which he brought home.

Mr. Lowney said he came very near bagging a large bear, but the animal proved too much for him. The bear, a female, was traced for some distance and finally located in a small pine grove. Mr. Lowney and his hunting partner fired at the beast and wounded her. Thinking they had killed the animal, they went towards her, but to their surprise, she sprang up on her hind feet and put up such a strenuous battle that the men were forced to run for their lives, inasmuch as their guns were then empty. They returned later, but failed to find any trace of the bear. Mr. Lowney says hunting in Canada is great sport and the hunters are very numerous.

elife point for the purpose of delivering one principal address.

President Wilson's campaign has had the assistance of his cabinet members and of Vice President Marshall, while Mr. Hughes enjoyed the unique distinction of having speeches made for him by two former occupants of the White House, William H. Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. Col. Roosevelt made his last speech here last night.

Women Active in Campaign

The increase in the number of states where women may vote for president this year has given women a greater part in this campaign than ever before. The most extensive campaign in ever undertaken by feminine political workers ended here last night when a special train brought back a party of women who have travelled through the country to win votes for Mr. Hughes. They have journeyed 11,700 miles and addressed 191 meetings in 28 states.

PRESIDENT WILSON CONFIDENT
LONG BRANCH, N. J., Nov. 4.—President Wilson, at an "old home day" celebration here today planned to close his campaign for re-election with an address to his fellow citizens of New Jersey.

Special trains were engaged to bring to Shadow Lawn residents of Jersey City, Newark, Trenton and other sections of New Jersey and the Wilson managers said many more demonstrators would come by other conveyances. The president was to begin his speech at 3:30 o'clock.

To his friends here early today the president expressed confidence over the outcome of the election Tuesday. The attack made upon the president last night by Col. Roosevelt went without official notice here today, although it was said Mr. Wilson might

"PRETTY POLLY"

FREDERICK FANNING AYER EXTOLS PRESIDENT WILSON

In the subjoined statement, Mr. Frederick Fanning Ayer, Lowell's greatest benefactor, explains in eloquent terms why he, a life-long republican, like thousands of other leading republicans of national repute, is out for the election of President Wilson.

WHY I AM FOR WILSON

By FREDERICK FANNING AYER

Member of the Union League Club, life-long republican, and one of the directors of the New York Tribune, which is supporting Hughes.

"I am for Wilson because Wilson is for me, and for every other man who hates war and loves civilization, and because he is full of stockwhip grit and determination to keep this country out of the hellish murder which has confined Europe, and which now threatens to drag us, too, into their cutthroat comity. Votes for Wilson are votes for peace.

"Party politics in times like these is an indulgence rich as dishwater. It's a time for statesmen such as no time ever before since the world began.

"Lincoln was the greatest war president of our history. Wilson has already mounted above all history as the greatest peace president of all times. Let those who love war vote for Hughes. Be their's the satisfaction that they are putting the kaiser in spurs to straddle our politics with the bloody swash-boots of his impudence."

In thus coming out for the election of President Wilson, Mr. Ayer enters the list of hundreds of republicans of national repute such as Thomas A. Edison, ex-President Eliot of Harvard, Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college and son of former President James A. Garfield; Ray Stannard Baker, famous author and former follower of Col. Roosevelt; Roger W. Babson, leading statistician and financial authority of America, allude to it indirectly this afternoon. Thus far he has mentioned neither Col. Roosevelt nor Mr. Hughes by name in any of his speeches.

HUGHES ACTIVE IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Charles E. Hughes finished his presidential campaign here today in whirlwind fashion. Instead of resting during the day as he had intended, the nominee faced a program which called for five speeches during the afternoon in addition to the rally tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Republican campaign managers have made elaborate preparations for the Madison Square meeting and the parade preceding it. They plan to have thousands of uniformed paraders in line with red fire and torchlights forming what they have characterized as a "monster wheel of flame" with lines of marchers as its spokes. These spokes will come together in Fifth avenue and will be reviewed by Mr. Hughes, former President Taft, and other prominent republicans.

GERMAN PRESS INTERESTED
BERLIN, Nov. 3, via London, Nov. 4.—The German press shows considerable interest in the approaching American election, printing all available news arriving by way of Holland or re-printing summaries of the situation from old English newspapers. The Catholic organ, the Koelnische Volks-Zeitung, today devoted a lengthy editorial to the subject, but studiously avoided taking sides. If the German people at one time, it says, sided with one of the candidates because they assumed that he was more friendly to Germany, they now see their mistake. The Frankfurter Zeitung also prints a leading editorial expressing their opinion that the outcome of the election is very much in doubt. It treats with great sympathy President Wilson's program for eliminating war through a peace organization established through propaganda of the peace.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISED
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Generally fair weather for nearly all parts of the country on election day is predicted by the weather bureau. Today this special forecast was issued: "The indications at this time are that on Tuesday, election day, moderate temperatures and generally fair weather will prevail over nearly all parts of the country. There is, however, a possibility of unsettled weather and rains in North Pacific states, the northern Rocky mountain region, in the extreme upper Mississippi valley and in the region of the Great Lakes."

MATRIMONIAL

Charles H. Flanders and Miss Blanche Prentiss were married Nov. 1, the ceremony being performed at the home of 9 Phillips street, by Rev. T. W. Laite. The bride wore white silk and she was attended by Miss Madeline Prentiss, her sister, who wore blue silk poplin. The best man was Leo Merron. At the close of the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, from out-of-town as well as a large delegation from the American Express Co., where the bridegroom is employed. The happy couple, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, will make their home at 9 Phillips street.

27 MEN ARE ENTOMBED IN MINE

40,000 VOICES

AND MANY ARE THE VOICES OF LOWELL PEOPLE

Forty thousand voices—What a grand chorus. And that's the number of American men and women, who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Lowell people are in this chorus.

Here's a Lowell case:
Mrs. A. H. Nichols, 33 Hastings st., Lowell, says: "I had a terrible backache, caused by disordered kidneys and I had severe pains through the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief in less than a week and two boxes cured me." (Statement given April 9, 1913.)
On July 16th, 1915, Mrs. Nichols said: "I have had no occasion to use a kidney medicine for some time. The present healthy condition of my kidneys is due to Doan's Kidney Pills."
Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nichols has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ONE OF QUARTET THAT TOOK GIRL AWAY IN AUTO CARRIED GUN SHIPS SINK AFTER COLLISION; MANY LIVES LOST

The alleged kidnapping of Athenia, 17 year old girl, who it is claimed was placed in an automobile in Moody street on the night of the 24th of October and was on route to Nashua when the machine broke down, has attracted considerable attention and this morning when the cases of the four men charged with assault and battery were called the court room was filled to overflowing.

The defendants, James Antonios, John Rousses, John Contas and Athanasios Chiamonios, who have entered pleas of not guilty, have told stories that conflict with the testimony offered by the complainant and witnesses for the government.

The regular session of the court was over at 11:15 o'clock and the alleged kidnapping case, in which the four deendants are charged with assault and battery was called.

John Rousses, one of the defendants, was recalled to the stand and testified that Athanasios told him that Contas was going to meet him in Moody street on the night of the 24th and that he and Athenia were going to elope.

James Antonios, another defendant, when called to the stand said that he had known Athenia in the "old" country and that Athanasios had told him about being in love with Athenia and asked him to act as best man. He agreed to do this. In response to questions asked by counsel the witness said that he had been informed of the affair two weeks prior to Oct. 24. He said the witness, told me that he had made up his mind to marry Athenia.

TAG DAY FOR THE LITHUANIAN SUFFERERS

Over 50 volunteers, among whom were several young men, enrolled for the work of Lithuanian relief today, and sold the deep pink tags on which was inscribed "Please Help the Sufferers of the War in Lithuania." Judging from the number of tags worn on the streets, the return was in keeping with that made to every such appeal for help in this city since the beginning of the war.

Most of those selling tags were members of the Lithuanian church and the collections were turned in to the pastor, Rev. John Olechnowicz, who has been an earnest worker for Lithuanian and Polish relief during the war. Collections were made in a round tin box, and the tag used is similar to those sold throughout the country. In most cases, Lithuanian relief day was observed Nov. 1, in accordance with the proclamation of President Wilson, who acted on a resolution adopted by the house of representatives last July.

Following is the local committee in charge of the work: Rt. Rev. Bishop H. P. R. da Silva, D.D., Rt. Rev. Mgr. William O'Brien, Rev. John B. Labors, Hon. J. E. O'Donnell, mayor of Lowell, Raymond Welch, superintendent of police, Mr. James Brennan, captain of police, Dr. Thomas B. Delaney, Dr. Alexis Bertrand, Mr. Edward Cawley, Mr. William Cawley, Rev. John Olechnowicz, Lithuanian pastor.

HARVEY'S OPEN FOR LUNCH SATURDAY NIGHT

LONDON, Nov. 4.—In one of the worst gales ever known in the Irish sea, the British steamship Connemara, bound from Greenore to Holy Head with passengers and a cargo of cattle from Greenore, Ireland, for Holy Head, Wales, collided last night just outside the Carlingford bar, with the steamship Retriever, laden with coal. Both vessels sank immediately with an estimated loss of life of over 100.

Of the 50 passengers and crew of 31 aboard the Connemara, there is only one survivor. It is virtually certain there were no Americans on board. The entire crew of the Retriever was lost.

Many bodies are being washed ashore on the Irish coast. Numbers of cattle also are being washed up, some alive.

The weather was so rough that it would have been impossible to launch any boats even had time permitted.

A despatch from Newry, 31 miles southwest of Belfast, received by the London Press association, says there were about 40 passengers from Newry on board the Connemara.

London and Northwestern railway steamship Connemara, bound from Greenore to Holy Head with passengers, has collided with another vessel and it is feared the death toll is about 300.

The Connemara collided with the steamship Retriever in the Irish channel last night. Both vessels were sunk. So far as is known there is only one survivor from both ships.

The railway company says it is unable to state whether any Americans were aboard these vessels. They seldom carry saloon passengers.

A Lloyds despatch from Belfast says the collision occurred off Carlingford Lough, an inlet on the Irish coast between the counties of Down and Louth. The Retriever was bound bound.

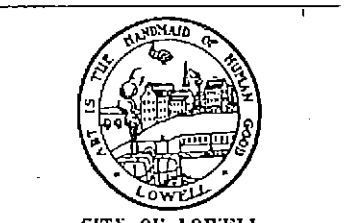

A few bodies have been washed ashore on the County Down coast. The despatch says it is feared 300 lives have been lost.

CORNERSTONE OF $50,000 MONUMENT LAID

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY ERECT MONUMENT ON SHILOH BATTLEFIELD

PITTSBURG, Tenn., Nov. 4.—The corner stone of the $50,000 confederate monument that the United Daughters of the Confederacy are to erect upon the battlefield of Shiloh, was laid today under the auspices of the Adamsville lodge of Masons, the Grand Master of Tennessee, Charles Garham, officiating. Masonic lodges of western Tennessee, North Alabama and North Mississippi assisted in the ceremony.

The monument will stand near the old Shiloh meeting house in the angle made by the intersection of the Corinth-Pittsburg Landing and Hamburg-Savannah roads. It will face in the direction from which the confederate forces advanced to the attack in the early morning of April 6, 1862.

The monument when completed will represent years of patient work on the part of the Daughters of the Confederacy in raising the money. Though the battle of Shiloh, fought April 6-7, 1862, was one of the most important of the war, the national military park there contains but three monuments to commemorate the part played by southern troops in the battle. The monument now under construction will be the most imposing in the park. It is being constructed of Mt. Airy (N. C.) granite. In the center rises a bronze group, the subject of which is "Victory Defeated by Death." Under the figures set in the granite is a bas relief of General Albert Sidney Johnston, the confederate commander, killed there. At either end of the granite monument is a group of soldiers. The monument is the work of Frederick C. Hibbard of Chicago. The front of the monument measures 35 feet across. The central group of figures rises to a height of 18 1/2 feet. All the bronze figures are heroic in size.

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 4.—Coach Houghton felt so little fear of the University of Virginia eleven which came to the Stadium today that he planned to send in an entire substitute back field for Harvard. Several second string men also were expected to start in the Harvard line.

The lineup:

| Harvard           | Virginia       |
|-------------------|----------------|
| C. T. Coolidge lb | le White       |
| Wheeler lb        | le McKay       |

| Minot lb          | lb Kingsolving |
| Hitchcock rbb     | rbb Russell    |
| Diond rb          | rb Sparr       |

Harvard gained a jump at the outset, scoring a touchdown within five minutes of play. A thirty yard run by Harle, plunges by Bond and dashes by Hitchcock and Minot proved too powerful for the Virginia line and Minot crossed the goal. Bond's accurate kick made the score 7 points for Harvard. Thurman's long punts and an intercepted pass by the Virginians kept the Crimson players at a safe distance from the visitors' goal during the remainder of the period. Score: Harvard 7; Virginia 0.

Shortly after the opening of the second period Bond standing on the 32-yard line scored a field goal for Harvard. After an exchange of punts and some rushing Minot shook off Virginia tacklers for a 25-yard run. Bond carried the ball 12 yards over the line and then kicked the goal.

After Virginia had advanced the ball 45 yards on a skillful passing Minot intercepted a pass and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Bond kicked the goal. Score and second period: Harvard 14; Virginia 0.

Score and third period: Harvard 37; Virginia 0.

York state collegians won handily and many of the star players then were in today's lineup.

Yale has been developing slowly but surely all the season and the contest was generally expected to prove the further test for "Tad" Jones' coaching methods. Vorys who has been out with injuries expected to play centre for Yale and Hutchinson who has been snapper-back, was slated to start at fullback.

The lineup:

Neither side was able to score in the first period. At one time Colgate had rushed the ball to Yale's three-yard line. Successive attempts to carry it over failed against the Blue defense and Legore getting the ball run it back 25 yards out of Yale territory. West missed a field goal from the 42 yard line by a narrow margin.

In the second period a 30-yard run by Spencer carried the ball to Yale's 20-yard line from which West kicked a field goal. Legore later fumbled a fair catch and Colgate recovered the ball in the middle. The half ended with the ball in Yale's possession on their own 45-yard line. Colgate was penalized frequently for holding and off-side play. Score: Colgate 3, Yale 0.

HUGHES MEN IN HOME COMING TORCHLIGHT PARADE OF THE BOYS OF CO. M

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Enthusiastic republicans of Boston and vicinity, variously estimated by the police and the Hughes torchlight parade committee from 4000 to 10,000, carrying torches, marched last night through Boston's downtown streets.

Singing campaign songs and cheering for Hughes and other national and state candidates, the marchers won applause from spectators who lined the route of march. The police estimated the crowd along the sidewalks at from 20,000 to 30,000.

The procession, spectacular because of the gayly colored uniforms of many of the paraders, the floats and the display of red fire and torches, was looked upon by the republicans as a huge success. It has been more than 20 years since the republicans have attempted a big campaign parade in Boston.

The parade formed in the Back Bay streets, leading off Commonwealth avenue, and was headed by George von L. Meyer, Jr., chief marshal. Starting at Beacon and Arlington streets, the paraders marched through Beacon street to Charles, to Boylston, to Tremont, to Scollay square, through Court street, to Washington street, to Eliot street, to Park square, where it was reviewed by the chief marshal and staff and state officials. Gov. McCall was unable to review it because of illness.

The biggest turnout was from Boston's Wood Trade Hughes club, which had about 1000 in line. Other big turnouts were the Harvard Hughes club, the Tufts college Hughes club and the Marketmen's Hughes club. From Tufts and Harvard there were about 700 each, and from the Marketmen's club about 500.

There were three floats in the dry goods commission division. These attracted much attention and were cheered by the spectators from time to time.

Other organizations represented by large numbers of marchers were the Young Republicans of Massachusetts, the Framingham Republican club, the Republican club of Massachusetts, the Milton Town Republican club, the Hughes alliance, the Dorchester staff, the Harding Cadets, the Field's Corner Republican club, the Lexington-Bedford Hughes alliance, the South End alliance, Everett Branch Hughes alliance, Ward 7 Republican club, Cambridge Hughes alliance, Athenaeum Press Hughes Men, Ward 11 Republican club, the Dorchester Hughes alliance, the Allston-Brighton Republican club, the Hughes Alliance of Massachusetts, the Newton Hughes alliance, the Jamaica Plain Hughes alliance and several others.

ACCIDENTALLY ASPHYXIATED

Miss Janet Walker, aged 32 years, a resident of West Chelmsford, was accidentally asphyxiated while visiting at the home of her nephew, Thomas Walker, Jr., 1035 Union street, Manchester, N. H., Wednesday evening. It is believed that while turning off the electricity, the aged woman opened the gas jet, for the fixture of the room contained both gas and electricity. The body was found in the morning by a member of the family. Medical Referee Maurice Watson pronounced death due to accidental asphyxiation. The body was removed to West Chelmsford.

ONE OF "BOBS" OLD SOLDIERS

HALE and HEARTY—due to "Fruit-a-tives".

"Most everybody in Chatham, knows Mr. George Walker. His romantic career in the British Army—during the Crimean War and later in the terrible Indian Mutiny under Lord Roberts—is known to many of the older residents of the city; while his erect, martial figure and vigorous health are in striking contrast to the average man of his years. What he says, carries conviction.

Chatham April 3rd, 1913.

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and serving under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Fierced hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using 'FRUIT-A-TIVES.' They relieved me of both the Constipation and Rheumatism. To-day, I walk many miles every day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation."

GEORGE WALKER ESQ.

This letter of Mr. Walker tells how to help Rheumatism, but does not tell why "Fruit-a-tives" ends this trouble. Rheumatism is the result of poisoned blood, due to weakness or faulty action of the bowels, kidneys or skin. In Mr. Walker's case, Rheumatism was the result of continued constipation. Waste matter remained looting in the system, was absorbed by the blood and inflamed the nerves and membranes in his legs. When he started to take "FRUIT-A-TIVES," these tablets immediately acted on the liver. More bile was given out to move the bowels. As the bowels were cleansed, the poisonous waste matter was removed, the blood became clear and the nerves were no longer irritated.

"Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful fruit medicine, is now prepared in the United States, as well as in Canada and England.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" are sold at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c.—by all druggists and medicine dealers, or they will be sent postpaid on receipt of regular retail price, by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, New York.

TO HOGGOTT EGGS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The executive committee of the Hoggott League decided yesterday to urge its membership throughout the country, said to number 700,000, to stop buying cold storage eggs until the price for them has been reduced from 60 and 75 cents to 25 cents a dozen. Women will be asked to buy eggs only for invalids until the price is down.

Officers of the league claim that the dealers paid 22 cents a dozen for the eggs for which they now demand 60 and 75 cents.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The walls and balcony front were covered with purple and white bunting with American flags and flowers arranged in pretty clusters. Lace curtains were hung over the balcony. A buffet table entwined with the bunting of the prevailing colors encircled the stage front with the national colors used as a background. Large American flags covered the balcony posts and streamers of purple and white extended from each post to the chandelier in the center of the hall. The whole effect was striking.

The evening's program opened at 8 o'clock with an overture by Almer's and Doyle's orchestra, which furnished music throughout the evening. This was followed by cabaret singing by the Honey Boy quartet, songs by Miss Katherine A. Hennessey and Commissioner James E. Donnelly. The whole concert program was delightful, the Honey Boys making a big hit, and Miss Hennessey and Commissioner Donnelly rendering solos very effectively.

About 9 o'clock general dancing was begun and continued until midnight. A short intermission was held at 10 o'clock, when refreshments were served. Following the dance, special cut service was given to all parts of the city and the suburban towns. The manner in which every detail was carried out reflects much credit on the officers and members of the local street railway men's union. Nothing that would add to the enjoyment of the guests was left undone.

The officers in charge were: General manager, Fred Crowley; assistant general manager, Fred Sad-

STOCKING THE PONDS

Lowell Fish and Game Association Receives Big Shipment of Black Bass

The black bass from the Mississippi river, which The Sun stated would soon be received by the Lowell Fish & Game association, arrived in Lowell yesterday. There were 18 cans containing members of the fishy tribe, the length of the fishes ranging from four to six inches. The fish were taken from the river in nets by the United States Fish commission at Bellevue, Iowa, and a shipment of 25 cans was sent to Gatun lake in the Panama zone.

The bass received in this city will be used for the purpose of stocking the Concord river, Nabnasset, Flushing, Baptist and Mascupic ponds. Although the fishes were on the road for one week, every one was alive upon reaching this city. Mr. J. P. Foley had charge of the car which contained the members of the fishy tribe.

A delegation from the Lowell Fish and Game association met the car. This is the third consignment of fish for stocking purposes sent to this city. On October 13, 3000 yearling trout were placed in brooks in and around Lowell and on October 23, 12,000 yearling hornpouts were placed in ponds in this vicinity.

Representatives of Bureau of Explosives Gives Talk on Safe Transportation of Dangerous Articles

"The Safe Transportation of Explosives and Other Dangerous Articles" was the subject of an address by G. B. Bonstelle of the United States bureau of explosives, 25 rooms of the republican city committee, 26 Central street, last night. Maurice E. Valliant presided and there was a large attendance, especially those who are interested in the transportation of explosives. Among those present were Chief Edward S. Saunders of the fire department and Mayor James E. O'Donnell, the latter making a few remarks.

Mr. Bonstelle was introduced by A. W. David, of the U. S. Cartridge Co., and the government inspector proved an interesting speaker. He spoke of the bureau of explosives as an outcome of the loss of life and property frequently experienced by companies handling dangerous compounds of this nature. It was the president of the Pennsylvania railroad who finally suggested standardization in the matter of correct information as to the commodity being transported, honest packages, and urged attention to containers containing dangerous compounds by employees. The speaker then described the methods of handling explosives and his remarks were illustrated by illuminating views thrown upon the screen by the stereopticon.

BUILDING BOOM BRINGS STRANGERS TO LOWELL

An idea of the great amount of building work going on in Lowell at the present time is shown by the great demand for carpenters that is constantly pouring into the headquarters of the union at the Russell building. Michael Lee, business agent for the local carpenters, is kept on the jump supplying the demands from contractors and individuals who have work in the carpentry line. Mr. Lee has been successful in bringing over 75 out-of-town carpenters to this city, but even this influx is inadequate. The out-of-town men, realizing the boom that the Spindle City is enjoying, are taking up residences in Lowell. Mr. Lee and other officials of the local organization encouraged the men to bring their families here, and in many cases their wishes have been complied with. By moving here, the men not only assist the contractors, but also by patronizing our stores and markets help the local merchants.

Dennett Silverblatt, Esq., and Isador Green were this week granted a permit for the erection of a $25,000 apartment house at 760 Westford st. The building will be 65 by 70 feet and will be erected on a lot containing 16,000 square feet. It will be three stories high and each tenement will contain four apartments, a living room, kitchenette, bath and chamber, all on the same floor.

ACTIVITIES OF BOLL WEEVIL CAUSE $200,000,000 DAMAGE IN COTTON BELT

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Approximately 2,000,000 bales of cotton, valued at about $200,000,000 have been destroyed by the boll weevil and about 70 per cent of the cotton belt was infested by this insect this season, according to the report of J. A. Taylor, president of the National Ginners' association who has just returned from an extensive trip through the cotton belt.

"There has never been a year in the cotton industry when the weevil has done so much damage," said Mr. Taylor. "I estimate the damage at 24 per cent, greater than last year, all of it in new territory where the boll weevil has never been known. The weevil this year reached the Atlantic coast for the first time."

They will consist of investigations of foreign markets and foreign production, as bearing on the opportunities for American producers and manufacturers—the demand and competition which will be met in European countries. The results of the investigation will be embodied in reports. ### MUST NOT LAND CARGOES AT BRITISH PORTS

ONLY CONDITION UPON WHICH GERMANY WILL NOT SINK NEUTRAL SHIPS

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A special despatch from Amsterdam features a statement of the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung to the effect that Germany has decided to make the safety of neutral ships carrying neutral cargoes dependent upon guarantees that no part of such cargoes shall be landed, whether through British compulsion or not, at any British port.

Such guarantees, according to the German press, also infer from a Berlin despatch summarized in the Koellische Zeitung that Germany proposes to sink all neutral ships whether bearing neutral cargoes or otherwise, unless Great Britain consents to abandon the right to compel discharge at Kikwall of any part of a neutral cargo suspected of having an enemy destination.

GRAVES IN MOUNT HOPE CEMETERY $5 MORE THAN FORMERLY

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The high cost of living has a rival. The cemetery department of the city of Boston has raised the cost of graves.

Following the announcement yesterday that funerals now cost more because manufacturers have raised the prices of various undertakers' supplies, it was learned that the cemetery department has increased the price of lots in Mt. Hope cemetery. In Section F, where single graves have been sold for $15, the price has been boosted to $20. The change took effect this month.

It was announced yesterday at city hall that this increase was made because of the increased cost of labor and other incidentals which made the former price less than the actual cost to the city.

CHEERS FOR JOHN JACOB

Congressman John Jacob Rogers was cheered on the public street in North Billerica last evening following a republican rally held in Union hall. The rally was held under the direction of the Billerica Republican club and was attended by nearly 100 voters. Frederick S. Clark presided. The speakers believed that the victim struck his head on a beam which runs above the edge of the vault, lost his balance and was rendered unconscious before striking the water. The body was taken to the City hospital morgue.

THE CLOSING CAMPAIGN

With the presidential election but a few days off it is presumed that the voters by this time have made up their minds as to how they will cast their ballots. We assume that every voter who considers the best interests of the country will vote for the presidential electors of the democratic party.

We realize that certain members of the republican party are not inclined to support President Wilson, but in this they are perhaps honestly though positively mistaken. We believe with Frederick N. Wier, Frederick Panning Ayer and thousands of prominent republicans throughout the country that President Wilson in the face of many difficulties has given the country splendid service, safely disposing of some of the most difficult problems that confronted this nation since the Civil war. His record of achievement in constructive legislation will stand out as an epoch in our history equalled only by the emancipation of the slaves by President Lincoln.

Blinded by partisan prejudice certain republicans, overlooking the statesmanlike measures enacted to prevent money panics, to assist the farmers of the country, to establish a merchant marine, to abolish child labor and to put this nation in an adequate state of preparedness, have made bitter attacks upon President Wilson, but the intelligent voters of the nation are not likely to be misled by such unjust criticism.

The whole secret of this bitter opposition to President Wilson in certain quarters is, that the Old Guard of the republican party represented by Wall street and the trusts, is trying to come back. For this reason Wall street has been conducting a belting campaign ever since Hughes was nominated. The intention is to influence votes for Hughes. The same was done by Wall street against President Lincoln and as it did not result in defeating Lincoln so will it fail now to defeat Wilson.

Some of President Wilson's critics assail him for not plunging this country into war with Germany. Roosevelt says he should have called Germany to account for the invasion of Belgium and Mr. Hughes is responsible for Roosevelt and everything he says in this campaign. Hence one of the questions to be decided at next Tuesday's election is whether we want to get into the war now going on in Europe. We surmise that every good citizen of this nation on this question alone will be influenced to sustain President Wilson in the wise, conservative and statesmanlike manner in which he has handled all international questions.

Another charge made by the republican campaigners is, that after the war this country will be overrun with the products of European factories. They seem to forget that every country now engaged in the war will not be in any condition to enter into commercial competition of any kind and certainly not with the United States.

But, if, after a period of reconstruction in Europe, any danger of the kind should come it is fully provided for in the anti-dumping law enacted under the direction of President Wilson. The republicans are trying to frighten the people by stating that the present prosperity is due to the war, but only a small portion of our exports consist of war munitions.

The Federal Reserve act passed by congress under President Wilson has removed the danger of financial panics so that the business of the country can now go on without the periodical upheavals experienced under republican administrations. Moreover, the old bogey of the tariff has been taken completely out of politics and there will never again be a general revision of the tariff by any party. The tariff commission appointed by the democratic administration has provided for a settlement of the tariff question on a scientific basis and without reference to politics. This is what has stirred up the Old Guard in the republican party. The day of special privilege and protected monopoly is gone; the power of Wall street is broken and thus a prospect of complete extinction threatens the republican party unless it abandons its old policies and decides to work for the interests of the people. The indications now point to the triumphant election of President Wilson.

COURIER CITIZEN'S FRENZY

Despite the Courier-Citizen's erratic tendencies, its absurd political tergiversations and its allegiance to the now discredited "interests" in American politics, we were somewhat surprised to find it on Thursday apologizing for Mr. Hughes and regretting that Col. Roosevelt, "its favorite candidate," had not been nominated as the standard bearer of the republican party.

But the editor, arguing with the "man who is going to vote for Wilson" because he cannot get Roosevelt, takes occasion to say that Hughes was taken up for the sole purpose of beating Wilson. He denies that Hughes represents the Old Guard of the republican party, but there is the plainest evidence that he does; and moreover, he represents the hyphenates for whom the editor of the Courier Citizen has repeatedly expressed his contempt.

In the course of the article, the editor as usual refers to Mr. Wilson in the most contemptuous terms such for example as a "weak man," a "dis-trusted man," "the weakest, wishy-washiest sister that ever happened." So far as we can determine the editor's reasons for applying these opprobrious epithets to President Wilson, they are that in his mind the president has been vacillating in his policy, that he did not declare war on Germany after the Lusitania disaster and that he took the method he did to avert the calamity of the great transportation strike.

We are given to understand that the Courier Citizen could never support a vacillating candidate. But did not Mr. Hughes vacillate just a little in accepting the nomination for president after saying this:

"The man who on the highest judicial tribunal would consider another office, is fit neither for the one he holds nor for the one to which he aspires."

Thus Hughes out of his own mouth brands convicted as unworthy the office he seeks, and the varied, motley, hyphenated and other alliances he has entered into since accepting the nomination have emphasized his unfitness for the office; but he is running as the candidate of Wall street and the Old Guard which is enough for the Courier Citizen, despite any exhibition of vacillating in the past.

But Roosevelt was the Courier Citizen's favorite candidate. Was there ever a more ambidextrous promise jumper and vacillator than that same Roosevelt? He pledged loyalty to the republican party, but when he lost the nomination for president in 1912, he founded the progressive party and promised "While life should last never to desert the men and women who fought with him at Armageddon," but failing again and seeing his chances with the people gone, he went over bag and baggage to Hughes and the Old Guard, despite the fact that he denounced Hughes as representing the interests. Moreover, he is also back hand and glove with Senator Penrose, whom he denounced in 1914 as representing "all the forces of evil in public life against which every clean and decent citizen should unflinchingly stand."

Roosevelt's attitude in relation to the present election was well stated by Mr. Charles D. Elliott, a prominent progressive of West Virginia, in reply to the colonel's appeal to follow him into the reactionary republican camp. Mr. Elliott wrote:

"You are asking too much of us to go back to this old crowd. Realizing that Hughes was nominated by the same crowd, he will in my opinion be controlled by them and the same interests that took him up into the mountain. This same crowd will control the delegations in 1920, and they will play the same old game. It is apparent to me that they have no more love for you now than they had four years ago, and the only way I see to get rid of them is for those of your friends who differ with you to clean up the whole gang, as they did in 1912."

Bravo Mr. Elliott, that is what is going to happen next Tuesday.

But another charge which our neighbor makes is, that Wilson "surrendered" to Germany and to the railroad brotherhoods.

On the German question he scored a diplomatic triumph, the greatest in the nation's history and that too, at a time when it made very little difference to Germany whether we entered the war or not.

Indeed our entrance to the war at that particular time would rather have helped than injured Germany as giving her unlimited freedom for her submarine warfare on the high seas.

Moreover our contemporary may perhaps admit the indisputable fact that the republican administrations preceding Wilson left this nation in no condition to go to war with any great power. President Wilson has taken steps to remedy that weakness as he has remedied many of the other glaring results of republican disregard for the welfare of the country and for everything else except the privileged classes and the money kings of Wall street.

Now as to the alleged "surrender" of Wilson to the demands of the railroad brotherhoods. The Courier Citizen has been trying to make political capital of that as an abject surrender to coercion.

The editor thought that it would have been the proper course to let the calamity come upon the country and then if need be string up the brotherhood leaders to the nearest telegraph poles.

There might undoubtedly have been some stringing up if President Wilson had allowed the strike to come, bringing in its train starvation and a reign of terror to spread all over the land; but in such a cataclysm not the labor leaders would be in the greatest danger of being strung up but the railroad magnates, the Wall street money kings and such malevolent critics as the editor of the Courier Citizen.

The meagre army of the United States could not suppress a revolution which might easily result from enforced idleness followed by starvation throughout the land.

In his handling of the question, President Wilson dealt with conditions as he found them and adopted measures which will result in a plan for the peaceful settlement of all such labor disputes in the future—something which the republican party never attempted to do.

In regard to President Wilson's action in this case, it is distorted and misrepresented by republican editors and campaigners in the absence of a real issue. When Roosevelt was president in 1907, he surrendered to the United States Steel corporation, giving that corporation a free hand to violate the law.

Did the republican organs at that time charge him with surrendering? Oh, no.

Under Roosevelt's fiat the U. S. Steel corporation purchased the Tennessee Coal and Iron company for $50,000,000, although the property, according to Judge Gary, was worth four times that amount.

Roosevelt's excuse in selling law aside was to avert a panic and for this he gave a great monopoly full power of extortion.

Despite republican denials, there was no question as to the extent of the disaster President Wilson averted by a law for which two thirds of the republican congressmen then in Washington voted.

Which was the "spineless surrender to blackmail?" The Wilson law that gave justice to labor or the Roosevelt violation of law that authorized plunder and loot?

But it is needless further to expose the absurd, inconsistent and unpatriotic attitude of the Courier Citizen editor towards President Wilson and his administration. Every campaign lie uttered elsewhere against the president is taken up by this facile writer, endorsed, amplified and emphasized; while he also draws upon his imagination for charges which make the other political Munchausen's of the nation look to Lowell for the highest examples of their art. Verily our neighbor, on certain phases of this campaign, is so peculiarly obsessed that he will readily condone the worst political crime committed by a republican and yet condemn the highest, the most patriotic and statesmanlike service rendered the country by a democrat, his animus being particularly directed against President Wilson, the foremost democrat of this republic, the greatest president since Lincoln.

THE REFERENDA QUESTIONS

On the ballot at next Tuesday's election there will be four questions, one as to whether we should hold a constitutional convention on which democrats should vote yes. Another is whether one party will have the privilege of entering the caucus of another party. This question is very misleading and it is advisedly so. The question to be decided is shall the law against party enrollment be repealed? To vote yes on this question is to vote for the repeal of the law and for party enrollment which would enable every employer to find out the political affiliations of his employees. Another question is whether New Year's day shall be adopted as a legal holiday. On this there will probably be considerable difference of opinion. Some want the holiday and some do not. For our part we feel that the wage earners do not want it, at least under present conditions. The fourth question is, whether cities shall have permission to conduct schools of horticulture and agriculture. Every citizen should vote yes on this question as in view of the high prices of farm products, it is important that more of our people should understand the science of farming and that more should depend upon the soil for obtaining a livelihood.

STEAMED CLAMS SERVED AT FIRE HOUSE

Captain Herbert A. Merrill and the members of Fire Co. No. 12, of West Sixth street, West Centralville, acted as hosts last night, the occasion being the semi-annual neighborhood gathering at the firehouse. The place of refreshment was steamed clams and the bivalves and the fixings that went with them were delicious.

About a hundred people called during the evening to enjoy the repast and one and all were loud in their praise of the spread. The members of the company, besides the firemen serving their friends, but there was an abundance of clams, fresh as daisies, and the manner in which they were steamed and served would do credit to a professional clam fixer.

Although there were many prominent persons present, including three of the commissioners, not one speech was made—the affair being a strictly social gathering. Among those present during the evening were Commissioners Charles J. Morse, William W. Duncan and Newell F. Putnam, Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department, Purchasing Agent Edward H. Boye, Inspector of Buildings Francis A. Connor and James Hearn, private secretary to the mayor.

Hon. John T. Sparks, who is one of the neighbors, was also present, for the candidate for senator is one of the five ones in West Centralville and is always interested in what takes place in the section of the city.

While the majority of the people present were acquainted with each other, those who were not were soon introduced and the strangers were shown through the building.

An informal reception was held in the parlor of the firehouse on the second floor during the evening. Lieut. Charles E. Abare being in charge.

Fortunately, there was no alarm of fire sounded to cause a suspension of the festivities.

The success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of Captain Herbert A. Merrill, Lieut. Charles E. Abare, Joseph L. Crowe, Edward Landry and William F. Egan, members of the company, and Arthur Emmeau, one of the neighbors.

Taking up the Adamson eight-hour bill, Mr. Taft said: "I don't care what the merits of the case were. I don't care whether the men were or were not entitled to more pay. A bill passed under a threat of force, without debate or proper consideration, is a humiliating disgrace to the nation."

Horace E. Graham, republican candidate for governor, also addressed the meeting.

EVERLASTING QUESTION OF PERPETUAL CARE

Edson cemetery lot owners who have the words "Perpetual Care" cut on their monuments, when no money for the purpose has been paid, will soon be asked to pay the money needed for such care or to remove the words altogether. This was voted by the cemetery commissioners at their regular meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Harris was not present.

Chairman Robertson said that the cemetery lot owners have only one person buried therein and to which there are no titles, he resold on condition that perpetual care money be paid for the whole lot. The price of $100 for perpetual care, he said, would not be reduced. There are many fine lots of this variety, ownership of which cannot be established.

Mr. Rigby favored this proposal, saying that it would beautify the cemetery and a vote was about to be taken when the chairman suggested that nothing be done on the question until Mr. Harris is present. Mr. Rigby called the attention of the body to the fact that "Perpetual Care" is on many monuments, although no money for the purpose has ever been paid. Action was then taken as above mentioned.

DRAMA LEAGUE RAISES STANDARD OF PLAYS

E. Charlton Black, LL. D. gave a highly interesting and educational lecture on the Drama League yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the education department of the Middlesex Women's club, speaking of its aims, its organization, its growth and its influence. He has been president of the league but his term expired yesterday.

The Drama League, which Professor Black described as "one of the most helpful and useful organizations in the world," was organized in April 1910, and was a development of the efforts of a small group of women in Boston who had met in a drama study group for 15 years and who had attended the theatre in a body. At a convention of the women's clubs of Chicago and the middle west, the idea was adopted and amplified and through Boston and New York laughed at first the Drama League has now spread in every state in the Union, has branches in 10 important cities in the United States and has also spread into Canada and England.

The league, said Professor Black, does not claim that it can make or mar a play but it has been able to raise the standard of the drama and has brought good plays into the smaller communities. The Drama League is striving to elevate the tastes of audiences so that the purification of the drama will take care of itself. Members of the league are kept in touch with the plays of the time and had or worthless plays are not so severely alone. This is having its effect on the managers and producers.

It is now taken very seriously by managers, Professor Black said, and more than one has testified to its worth. George Arliss spoke of it highly in connection with his production of "Disraeli" and when the purpose of the league is fully achieved, it shall prove a vital influence for good throughout the country. It is the aim to foster play study among the members and so to create a demand for good, wholesome, high class plays in the country without the vicious and the tawdry.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE

The Lowell Social Service league, at the meeting of the directors held Thursday afternoon, elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Hon. John Jacob Rogers; vice presidents, Hon. Frederic A. Fisher and Dudley L. Page; honorary vice president, Patrick F. Sullivan; and Rev. Charles T. Billings; general secretary, Miss Mary A. Cotter. The treasurer was chosen at the annual meeting and Julian B. Keyes serves in that capacity. The clerk is Miss Harriet Coburn.

The Social Service league has completed a year of work and plans to carry on its effort permanently the purpose of the league being to form the missing link of co-operation between all types of charitable and social service organizations in Lowell.

INVESTIGATION SHOWS HUGE PROFITS BY PAPER MAKERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—In a statement last night, announcing virtual completion of its investigation of news print paper prices, the federal trade commission declares that during the first half of this year, when prices already were soaring to unprecedented figures, the average cost of producing news print paper in domestic mills was less than $1.65 per hundred pounds, or below the average cost in the past three years.

The commission announces that before issuing its report public hearings will be conducted and manufacturers, publishers and others interested given an opportunity to appear. No date is set for the hearings, but the report is said to be ready to send to the press in the near future.

Certain facts developed by the inquiry are made public now, because most of the publishers' contracts for news print paper are about to expire. Contract prices rose this year from less than $2 per hundred to $3 and $3.50, and on current market purchases the publishers have paid $7 or more for paper bought in the same way prior to Jan. 1 for between $2 and $3.

"The statement concludes: 'The investigation of the advance in prices of news print paper which was undertaken by the federal trade commission by direction of the senate has been practically completed, and the report will be ready to send to press in the near future. Considering the large amount of data involved, the work has been done in an unusually short time.'

"This is about the time when negotiations for the renewal of a large number of contracts between newspaper publishers and news print paper manufacturers usually take place. The commission has therefore decided to make public immediately certain fundamental facts which have been ascertained through computations which have just been completed.

Advance Began Early in Year

"The price advance in news print paper which occasioned this investigation began early in 1916 and continued down to the present. Most news print paper, probably about 90 per cent, is sold on contract for periods of a year or more. Before the price advance began, contract prices for news print paper were generally less than $2 per hundred pounds, or below the average cost in the past three years. During the first half of 1916, contract prices for large quantities in some instances went as high as $3 per 100 pounds and since July 1, 1916, have risen as high as $3.50. Most of the contracts now in operation will expire within three or four months.

"On current market purchases newspaper publishers have been paying much higher prices. Before Jan. 1, 1916, current market prices ranged generally between $2 and $3 per hundred pounds, delivered, depending on quantity, freight and other circumstances, but since that time they have gone up as high as $6 or $7 per 100 pounds for a considerable volume of business and even higher in exceptional instances.

"The average price received by domestic manufacturers of news print paper did not advance in anything like the degree that current market prices advanced, because most of the paper was sold under contracts previously made. On the average, the actual net receipts of domestic manufacturers for news print paper were less than $2 per hundred pounds during the first half of 1916.

"The average cost of manufacture of news print paper in domestic mills was less than $1.65 per hundred pounds, or below the average cost in the past three years, as shown both by the manufacturers' own records and by the costs as revised by the accountants of the commission. Furthermore, these average costs were slightly lower than the average costs in any year from 1913 to 1915.

"Though the average cost declined in the first half of 1916, the market price of some of the materials of manufacture advanced were unusually high.

No Advance on Materials

"It should be noted that the most important materials which advanced in price, sulphite and groundwood, were produced by more than one manufacturer without an increase in cost and not bought at market prices, while some other manufacturers were protected against the increase in prices by contracts. Some other materials which were purchased at advanced prices were used in small quantities in the total cost. Certain economies were also practiced in the use of expensive materials.

"It is generally claimed in the trade that costs in the future will increase, particularly on account of the scarcity of labor in the Canadian woods and the consequent increase in labor cost of bringing logs to the mills. This is necessarily a matter of prediction, concerning which the commission expresses no opinion.

"The quantity of news print paper produced by domestic manufacturers in the first half of 1916 was somewhat greater than in any preceding half year since the middle of 1913. The increase in production was accomplished by running mills to full capacity. Recently most mills have been operated 24 hours per day for six days per week.

"The quantity of news print paper imported, which came chiefly from Canada, exceeded about one-third of the domestic production, and showed a great increase in the last half of 1916. The quantity exported also increased during this period, though the exports were small compared with imports. The prices, however, offered by foreign buyers were high.

Only Small Tonnage Exported

"The stocks of news print paper, which are very small in comparison with the production, not only declined during the first half of 1916, but also were lower than at any time during the year 1915.

"As there was a large increase in production and imports, accompanied by a decline in stocks, while there was only a small tonnage export, it is evident that there was a large increase in consumption during the first half of 1916.

"An increase in the demand for news print paper is also indicated by the fact that the sworn statements respecting the circulation of newspapers made to the postoffice department generally show larger issues by the leading newspapers, and by the fact that the number of pages of the larger newspapers have been generally increased on account of large increases in advertising and news matter.

"Before the recent price advance, certain other grades of paper were showing higher profits per ton than news print paper and there was a tendency to change from this grade to other grades.

"This movement seems to have been checked by the recent rise in the prices of news print paper. Furthermore, it is stated that before the end of this year four new machines, two in this country and two in Canada, with an aggregate daily capacity of about 150 tons will begin operations on news print paper. Other planned or pending developments will apparently require a somewhat longer time to become available.

"It is not intended in this statement to make any prediction about the future course of news print paper prices, but merely to indicate some important facts to those interested in the buying and selling of paper in order that they may act more advisedly in making new contracts. Moreover, the facts shown here are confined to matters of a statistical character and do not cover other phases of the situation, including the new and the old mills of the news print paper manufacturers. These questions will be a subject of further consideration by the commission and some of them will be covered by the public hearings, which are already under way. The commission intends to hold in the near future."

RAISE PRICE OF PAPERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The high cost of print paper and other material was given today as the basis for a decision of the five big Jewish dailies here to raise the price of their newspapers from one cent to two cents. The change will take effect Wednesday. The combined circulation of the five dailies is said to be in excess of 500,000.

Prisoners are reported to have said that Australian battalions do not now contain more than 600 men.

THE LINEUP

The members of the Lowell high football team, Coach Conway and a few officials left in town today for Manchester, N. H., where the local boys will play the high school team of that city. The Manchester players figured that today's game would be the hardest and best fought of the season. Lowell high was a favorite, as it has defeated teams by a much greater score than has Manchester.

In comparing the records of Lowell and Manchester for the season, the local team has scored 195 points to its opponents' 21 in six games, while Manchester has scored 155 points to its opponents' 42 in five games. Both eleven won over Nashua, Lowell by a score of 57 to 0, and Manchester by a score of 21 to 0. The teams also downed Lynn English, Lowell 31 to 0 and Manchester 7 to 0.

The probable lineup follows:

PIG IRON REMOVED

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4.—Pig-iron weighing several hundred tons, used for ballast in the German undersea cable, was removed today from the New London harbor. As the nickel and crude rubber for the return cargo is much heavier than the dyes and drugs brought over the craft will not need the ballast.

Within a few hours the storing of more than forty carloads of material held here for two weeks will be commenced, and it is believed that as far as the cargo is concerned the undersea freighter will be ready to leave in a week.

THE LOWELL SUN SATURDAY NOVEMBER 4 1916

THE LOWELL SUN SATURDAY NOVEMBER 4 1916

BERLIN, Nov. 4, by wireless to The Associated Press, via Sayville.—The German admiralty has furnished to The Associated Press correspondent the details of what is characterized as a second Baralong case. In which a British patrol ship, flying American colors, it is declared, after destroying the submarine U-41 deliberately ran down a row boat with the only two survivors of the under sea boat in an endeavor to remove the only witnesses, and has since prevented the intended victims, who were almost miraculously saved, from communicating the news to their own government.

The incident, according to the admiralty, occurred on Sept. 24, 1915, and has only just been learned of through an invalided prisoner transferred to Switzerland. The submarine, according to the admiralty account, had halted in the neighborhood of the Sicily Isles for examination, a steamer under the American flag, apparently an innocent merchantman.

The steamer ostensibly prepared to lower a boat, but when the submarine supposed merchantman suddenly opened concealed ports and began firing from two cannon and also with machine guns, the American flag flying the whole time, the account continues.

The submarine, irreparably damaged, went under, but was able to come to the surface later for an instant and Lieut. Crompton, severely wounded, and Petty Officer Godwin managed to crawl out through an open hatch before the submarine sank forever.

The sole survivors ultimately managed to swim to an empty boat. The steamer, observing this, according to the admiralty details, headed full speed for the boat, not to save but to ram it, placing a lookout in the steamer's bow to facilitate accurate steering.

The Germans at the last moment sprang from the boat and clung to the wreckage of it for a half hour, when the steamer finally picked them up. The wounded Lieutenant Crompton and his comrade were left without the slightest medical attention in a small cage on the steamer's deck until their arrival at Falmouth the following day. It is declared, although the lieutenant had a double fracture of the jaw bone, a broad wound across the nose and cheek, wounds in the left temple and on the finger, and an eye shot out. It was not until Sept. 29 that the lieutenant was transferred to a shore hospital, clad at the time only in his undershorts. They were transferred on Nov. 1 to the military prison in York castle, whence the wounded officer, whose wounds were still open and who was threatened with the loss of the other eye, was sent in mid-December to Dyffryn, Wales, the account states.

A British surgeon later proposed to transfer the wounded officer, as totally paralyzed, to Switzerland, and a Swiss commission of surgeons twice voted that he be thus sent, but the British surgeon general, it is declared, vetoed the plan and the officer was retained in England. The admiralty declares that this was evidently due to a guilty conscience on the part of the British, who wished to prevent the news from being made known. Lieut. Crompton repeatedly attempted to send his report through the American embassy in London. It is asserted, but no report from him reached Germany.

An admiralty officer, recalling the newspaper reports of some time ago that the British government, having been forced by German realists to measures to abandon drastic treatment of captives from submarines, had given orders to take no submarine prisoners but to send them to the bottom with their vessels, declared to the correspondent that this case, with that of the Baralong, should be considered as furnishing all necessary proof that the unproved story regarding the government order was true.

The submarine U-41 was commanded by Lieut. Commander Hansen, accounted one of the bravest and best of German submarine officers.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS OF GEN. PERSSING, Mex., Nov. 4.—Cowboys from Dabricka ranch, operating with home guards from Nampiqua defeated a Villa force of 50 near Santa Ana, killing several and capturing 11, according to a report received today at field headquarters. The report said five of the prisoners declared they had been forced to join the bandits in the Guerrero district. Santa Ana is about 75 miles south of the American camp at Ey Villa.

ONLY WOMAN LEADER OF REVIVAL CAMPAIGNS

REV. MRS. T. D. BARR CARRIES A WORKING PARTY OF NINE MEMBERS

TO REV. MRS. T. D. BARR, an Indianapolis woman, falls the unique title of "the only woman evangelist," now conducting tabernacle campaigns and carrying a working party of nine members. As far as can be ascertained, the Rev. Mrs. Barr stands alone in this particular phase of religious work. Mrs. Barr holds a Sunday afternoon "men only" meeting in each city where she campaigns. She is a member of the western yearly meeting of the Society of Friends. This is her second year of endeavor in the evangelistic field, and she has met with success. She is now conducting meetings in Indianapolis and will soon start on a campaign in St. Louis under the supervision of the women's federation of that city. Mrs. Barr has been a Friends minister, having held various charges in the yearly meeting for the past fifteen years.

FITZGERALD WOULD BAR MANSFIELD REPLES TO EXPORT OF POTATOES M'CALL AT THREE RALLIES

TACUNTON, Nov. 4.—John F. Fitzgerald, democratic candidate for senator, at the democratic rally held here last night, received an ovation when he made a bitter attack on the rising prices of foodstuffs and declared that it is "terrible to allow potatoes to be exported while they are retelling in our local markets at 55 cents a peck."

Mr. Fitzgerald declared that with the prices of potatoes soaring to unprecedented figures, the United Fruit company's steamer Amazon, this week sailed with 1,500 sacks of potatoes to be exported. This would be sufficient, he declared, to back the back of the present corner, were they sold in the open market.

"This is but one of a number of extremely large potato shipments which vessels of this line have carried out of this port in the last several weeks," Mr. Fitzgerald said, "and it is known that they are being disposed of in the banana country for just about half what they are bringing at present in the local market."

"Senator Lodge is urging the election of Mr. Hughes and himself to the Aldrich bill is revived the 'American standard of living' will be lowered."

"Will Mr. Hughes or Senator Lodge explain how it is that the worst industrial conditions in the United States have always been found in the most highly protected industries? The lowest wages are paid in those industries having the highest protection and the highest wages are paid in those in-

U-57 COMING TO PROTECT THE DEUTSCHLAND

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4.—The U-57, it is reported, left Bremen on Oct. 18—three days after the Deutschland sailed.

TO PROTECT DEUTSCHLAND
NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 4.—The German armored submarine U-57, sister ship of the U-53, which recently sunk five vessels off the New England coast, is expected to act as a convoy for the under-sea raider Deutschland on her return trip to Germany, according to a statement last night by Captain Paul Koenig.

To Sail in Ten Days
The Deutschland's skipper added: "I would not be surprised if the armored submarine appeared off this coast while I am in port. You can't tell what the government will do."

In answer to questions, Captain Koenig said he probably would make his homeward dash within the next 10 days. He denied reports that he would go through the Cape Cod canal, saying nothing was to be gained by this route.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company announced that the Deutschland's cargo was discharged at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The cargo was exercised to prevent outsiders from seeing the work. Only the crews of the submarine and the North German Lloyd liner Wilhelm were allowed in the hold. They passed the freight out to negro slaveholders, who stored it in the warehouses.

Manifest a Mystery
Vice-President Hulken of the Forwarding company left yesterday for New York. Nothing has been made public concerning the Deutschland's manifest. James L. McGovern, collector of customs, is out of town. He sent special delivery letter yesterday to Captain Koenig, but the latter declined to comment on its contents.

The citizens' committee which was arranged for a complimentary banquet to the Deutschland's crew next Wednesday, announced that a cold war suitably inscribed, will be presented to Captain Koenig.

Rumors were circulated here last night of the presence of British and French cruisers off Block Island, No Man's Land and Nantucket Shoals, but there was no confirmation from reliable sources.

Commander Yates Stirling of the United States submarine base on the Thames river placed no credence in the reports. He said the under-Deutschland and four United States submarines have been maneuvering off Block Island and adjacent waters for two days, and that if foreign warships had been sighted a report would have been made to him immediately.

Commander Stirling was interested in the report that the U-57 was to convey the Deutschland on her return voyage, saying that it was a natural thing for Germany to do.

AMUSEMENT NOTES
Tomorrow's program at the R. F. Keith theatre will be a rouser, in every sense of the word, for there will be plenty of novelty and music to it. Johnnie Kowles, Helen and Rice, and the Leightons, in good music, are retained from the present week's bill, and in addition there will be four wholly new combinations, as follows: Helen and Rice, in a skit called "Eggs," and Devine and Williams, in fun. There will also be presented a dozen all new films, showing a great variety of photoplay subjects. The present week's bill is one of the best of the season, and the two more opportunities to see the seven big acts remain.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
This afternoon and tonight are the last opportunities for the theatregoers of Lowell to see "Never Say Die," that hilarious farce comedy which has been the magnet for wonderful crowds at the Opera House this week and which is the best attraction offered by the Emerson Players thus far this season.

Sunday afternoon and night at the Opera House, a gala program of vocal, dramatic and musical features will be offered, the management having secured five splendid acts and many reels of the newest releases in photoplays. There are two performances, the matinee starting at 2:15 and the evening performance at 7:30 o'clock. The prices are 10, 15 and 25 cents and seats are selling in advance.

Anderson and Evans in a hilarious skit, "The Wanderer," will prove one of the best laughing acts that Lowell has seen. The two young men are well known to the theatregoers of this city, having appeared here last season in the hilarious "On the Rocks."

The new act is a scream from the start to the finish and entirely different from their previous offering. Anita, the violinist, is another big time act and she will win a great share of applause. Putnam and Adams in a class singing and talking act, and Edward and Sister in a lively mixture of song and chatter are other numbers on the bill while The Melody Boys will offer one of the newest acts that this city has seen in a long time. It is a splendid program from the start to the finish. The Emerson Players are greeted with crowded houses.

Next week, starting with a special bill on Monday, the Emerson Players will present for the first time in this city, Walter Howard's great success, "The Story of the Rosary," a drama of love and war, which ran for a solid year in many theatres in New York and which is now running to crowded houses in Chicago. Already there is a big demand for seats and patrons are advised to make reservations early and in advance to see the play as early in the week as possible.

"The Story of the Rosary" is a play with a punch. It tells a great story and it is a play that will appeal to the emotions of all theatregoers in and for miles around Lowell. Critics throughout the country have been unanimous in their praise of the play and have pronounced it "the most timely and the most appealing play that has been produced in many years." There is not a single dull moment in the play from the start to the finish and besides many wonderful dramatic situations, there is a beautiful comedy strain which furnishes laughter and makes the dimples to catch the tears.

"The Story of the Rosary" offers the Emerson Players a wonderful opportunity to exploit their talents and that they will give a superb production is certain. Ivan Miller, Harriet Duke, and will be in the play. The Emerson Players, Gladys May, Ed. Vincent, Gertrude Shirley, James J. Galloway, Rose Morison, David Baker, Ernest East, Frank Wright, Ben J. Allen, and the Emerson Players company will be seen in the characters and a superb scenic production will be given with all new and special effects.

Secure seats early. "Phone 281 now. Don't delay. Don't hesitate.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
These who haven't yet seen the splendid bill which has been presented at the Merrimack Square theatre on the last two days, must come today if they wish to see the charming Anita King in "The Heir to the Hoohrah," Charlie Chaplin in "The Count," and Fred Astaire in "The Flamingo," and other plays. The big headliner of the continuous Sunday concert tomorrow afternoon and evening will be the great and famous comedy drama, "It's No Laughing Matter," starring the humorous character actor, Maclay Arbuckle. Many other plays will be given, including the new play, "The Flash of an Emerald," which will be presented by the Emerson Players. The first picture presented by her own company.

OWL THEATRE
The "Flash of an Emerald," the photoplay which will again be seen at the Owl today has a rather peculiar name, but judging from the contents of the bits of the season. One of the scenes in particular, which pleased many, and which was taken in connection with the play, is the showing in full of the famous ceremony which takes place every year at St. Anne de Beaupre, in Quebec, where thousands have been cured in a miraculous manner of various afflictions. Other excellent attractions will also be presented at the Owl this afternoon and evening.

Sparks and Purcell
In the local contests the names of Sparks and Purcell are linked together as sure winners. They have conducted clear and dignified campaigns and have added to their already large list of friends. Mr. Sparks when in politics before made such a fine record that it was readily recalled once he assumed his present position of chief of the political field again. His opponent's attitude on labor measures while in the legislature was such as to deny him the support of organized labor men who form a large percentage of the vote of his district. In the registry contest Mr. Sparks' only reason for running is because he wants the job. He cannot refer to Mr. Purcell's record for any reference to it must be of a complimentary nature, so great have been the results produced by Mr. Purcell during his incumbency. It is generally contended that this office should be a non-political office, on account of its nature, but Mr. Sparks has gone after it as one would seek a genuinely partisan berth. With Jeremiah Murphy as political manager, Mr. Sparks has conducted a rigidly partisan campaign.

The 14th District
The county commissioners this year redistricted the representative districts so that the democrats of Lowell may have three representatives in the legislature instead of two, as they have had in the past. Whether the democrats improve the opportunity afforded them to elect an additional representative remains with themselves. Unfortunately, the contest for the second nomination in the 14th district resulted in a tie, after the ballot law commission had acted upon the case, and the republicans are in high hopes of electing two republican candidates in this district.

They figure that the friends of the candidate who lost in the end, will not support the man who beat him, and that by cutting that man they will defeat both of their candidates. It is up to all democrats of the 14th district to vote straight for Dennis A. Murphy and Charles E. Stowey, if they would elect either of them.

Watch the Professor
We are indebted to the Complacent Citizen of the Courier-Citizen for the following startling inside information about the coming election:

"And I am betraying no confidence, I trust, if I state that between now and election day, Professor Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard, the distinguished writer on history and government, who addressed the Lowell board of trade at its annual dinner, will come to Lowell for Mr. Hatcher, who has been voted for Col. Roosevelt."

Are you sure, Mr. Complacent Citizen, that Professor Hart didn't tell you to keep that under your hat until he made the announcement himself? You are not treating the professor fairly, now, are you, Mr. Hatcher? Richard Henneman of Harvard, the eminent authority on finance and business efficiency, told me something about the coming election, while Prof. Gottlieb Tannen, of Harvard, gave me some inside information regarding the attitude of the German-American vote, but I'm not betraying confidences.

Trade in Lowell
The Courier-Citizen goes way down to Texarkana, Texas, to dig up one John A. King, a former democrat and quote his views, while right here in Lowell we have a John C. King, a former and at present a democrat who knows more about politics than any of America's unknown kings, and who would tell the truth if King is going to be re-elected.

The Inauguration Day
Some "wise guy" who looks into the future through the "crystal ball" has discovered that March 4 inauguration day, falls on Sunday, and now the inquiries are coming in, as follows:

"Will the newly elected president take the oath of office on Sunday?"

"If the president does not take the oath on Sunday does the vice-president or the secretary of state act as president over the closing day?"

"Is that any article in the constitution that says that the president shall not be inaugurated on Sunday?"

"The term of the president of the United States begins on March 4, the retiring president, vice-president, and cabinet going out on other automatic, legally, and there is no 'interregnum' when the day falls on Sunday. There is no reason why the oath should not be taken on March 4, and the consti-

Relief comes instantly.
A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

tution says nothing about it either way. In cases where there is no law precedent, custom makes the law, and in this particular case we have a precedent, for once long ago when March 4 fell on Sunday, the new president took the oath of office privately on Saturday evening, March 3 and was formally inaugurated with all the attending ceremonies on Monday, March 5, being technically in office over the weekend.

Working in the Country
Outside of the French-American population it would appear that Messrs. Stearns and Colburn have abandoned their campaign in Lowell, for they have given all of their time during the week to campaigning and addressing voters in the towns of their respective districts. With Mr. Jeremiah Murphy of this city, as presiding officer, Mr. Stearns has held some Monday rallies in the towns and has said things which probably would not be seriously received in the city. Among other things which Mr. Stearns is quoted as having said: "If I am elected, your wives and daughters and sisters will not be obliged to go forth into the highways and byways soliciting votes."

If he's talking anti-votes for women his statement may mean something, but how it is connected with the contest for register of deeds passesh under-standing.

Passed Up Joe Lamherl
Rep. Colburn this week sent out letters written in French to every French voter in Lowell and to others with names that sound like French names but whose owners can't even say "Comment ca va?" in which he sets forth his love for and interest in the French-Americans of his district. Although Joe Lamherl runs a French printing office with the French fonts of type, and with the union label, the circular was printed in another printery.

Hon. Francis G. Slattery
One of the best speakers heard in Lowell during the campaign was Hon. Francis G. Slattery, the well known Boston attorney, and a close personal friend of Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield. Mr. Slattery spoke at the Wage-Earners' rally in Lincoln hall, on Thursday evening, and made a big hit. He has known Mansfield intimately for years and to use the vernacular "knows him like a book." From his knowledge of the man himself comes his intense interest in the latter's cause.

SWEETSER AROUSED OVER LACK OF HEADQUARTERS
GENERAL APPEALS TO GOVERNOR OVER THE HEAD OF ADJUTANT GENERAL.

MODERLY, Mo., Nov. 4.—As the train leaving the Ninth regiment bows along on its way home, the general Sweetser is becoming more and more anxious to know where he is to find suitable headquarters when his train reaches Boston. The commandant of the Second Massachusetts brigade has been keeping the wires hot between this train and the state house in Boston, and threatens trouble, according to regimental officers.

The general has appealed to Governor McCall over the head of the adjutant-general, whose order resulted in the second brigade being left without quarters.

Governor McCall has replied at least once to the general since this train left El Paso, and the general has sent more messages. Just what the result of these telegrams has been General Sweetser declines to state, although he indicated today that he may have something to say on that score later.

The feeling among officers of this train is that the second brigade's fighting leader will decide war on somebody before long. It is known that General Sweetser feels that he has been pretty roughly treated. The difference between the adjutant-general and General Sweetser grew out of an order issued by the former relieving General Sweetser from command of the commonwealth armory.

turning the armory over to the charge of Colonel John Shurburne of the Bay State artillery regiment.

The two rooms in this armory formerly occupied as a headquarters by General Sweetser were given over to the use of the supply company of the artillery regiment. Notice of the adjutant-general's order did not reach General Sweetser in El Paso until the latter's effects were packed for shipment to the commonwealth armory and were about to be loaded on this train. Since then General Sweetser has been trying to find a military home suitable for the Bay State's senior field officers.

U.S. COURT ORDERS THE SALE OF STEAMERS

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 4.—The Eastern Steamship corporation property has been ordered for sale by Judge Putnam of the United States district court. An order providing for the sale by the special masters in the case was handed down this noon. The order follows the decree of foreclosure, on two trust mortgages, given by Judge Putnam on Sept. 26.

Judge Putnam at that time ordered that, if the Eastern Steamship corporation did not pay to the Old Colony Trust company of Boston, trustee of the refunding mortgages, $6,529,597.20 within 10 days after the date of the decree, that the special masters, John J. Williams and Leon Carroll W. Morrill, should sell the property at auction.

In a petition presented yesterday by the Old Colony Trust company, and the Portland White Coal Mining company, it was stated that the big sunken ship, the John W. Williams, of the Eastern Steamship corporation, was the property of the corporation as sold as provided in the decree of Sept. 26. The order issued by Judge Putnam virtually grants the petition of the complainants and tries their action as a "consolidated cause."

The trust mortgages, upon which principal and interest are due, were issued Jan. 10, 1912, and March 25, 1912.

In the order issued by Judge Putnam, the loss of the steamship John W. Williams is referred to, as well as the sale of the ship at auction on Oct. 9, with the consent of the court.

Referring to this sale the court says in its order: "No interest in, or right or claim to any salvage or insurance payable on account of the loss of the steamship, John W. Williams, shall be deemed to be included in this property to be sold by the special masters."

In the foreclosure decree of Sept. 26, it was specified that when the auction should take place, the bulk of the property should be sold from the steps of the Suffolk county courthouse in Boston, and the remainder from the steps of the courthouse at Bangor. The special masters have not yet set the date for the sale.

The decree of Sept. 26 also says that the total amount received for the sale of the property should not be less than approximately $4,000,000.

Ancillary orders will be filed in the United States district court for Massachusetts.

ISSUES WARNING ON ELECTION FRAUDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—An official estimate that 60,000 negroes have been transported recently from the south into Ohio, Illinois and other states was made by the department of justice last night in a statement declaring that a number of the negroes have fraudulently registered and that other election frauds disclosed include padding of registration lists reaching into thousands of false names in one city alone.

The statement issued with the sanction of Attorney General Gregory, gives warning that conspiracies to intimidate voters will be promptly prosecuted. It is the department's first official announcement that actual fraud has been developed by its investigators.

JUDGE RILEY'S PART IN THIS CAMPAIGN

Superstition runs riot among political celebrities as in every other year, and the democratic leaders throughout Massachusetts, therefore, attach unusual significance this year to the fact that Judge Thomas P. Riley of Malden, candidate for lieutenant governor, is again at the helm of the rally committee and speakers' bureau of the democratic state committee.

Judge Riley's managerial record has been brilliant. As director of the same department of the democratic state campaigns of 1911, 1912, 1913 and 1914—no was chairman of the state committee '12 and '13—he achieved the reputation of being a winner for those years his capacity for direction resulted in the election of Governor Foss twice and the carrying of the state for Wilson four years ago. Last year, because of stress of other business, he did not manage the campaign rallies or speakers' bureau. McCutcheon defeated Governor Walsh for re-election to a third term in 1915.

This year, Judge Riley has again been in active charge of the rally feature of the democratic campaign and believers in signs look upon his leadership as an omen of success. Judge Riley was unmindful of self-sacrifice when he agreed to handle the active campaign and the other party leaders and counselors had in mind his successes in the campaigns that elected Foss by a plurality of 8,102 in 1911; the re-election of Foss in 1912 and the carrying of the state for Woodrow Wilson; the election of Walsh in 1913 and his re-election in 1914.

The result this year has been a campaign such as has never been waged by the democrats of Massachusetts. Arranged and national and state speakers were secured to address the voters of practically every national district. Three times the length and breadth of the state has been covered and, in many instances, the larger centers have been visited and rallies conducted not less than six times. With all his activity, despite the fact that he has not missed a single night at campaigning and speech making, Judge Riley has been at the democratic state committee headquarters in Boston at 10 o'clock each morning and has remained until his speaking engagements for the evening have been completed. He has been a worker in the cause he has been faithful and tireless.
